Spend Week's Holiday at Florida Naval Base.

By The Associated Press

[illegible]SHINGTON, Nov. 14—President Truman will fly to Florida [illegible] a week's vacation at [illegible] West, the White House announced today.

[illegible] Truman will leave Washington [illegible] p. m. Sunday, traveling [illegible] the President's special [illegible] plane. [illegible] will arrive at Boca Chica [illegible] about 4 p. m. [illegible] he will go by automobile [illegible] the naval base at Key [illegible] a 20-minute drive.

"Rest Trip"

Announcing the plans, Secretary Charles G. Ross [illegible] "this is a rest trip." [illegible] said it may be the last [illegible] Mr. Truman will have [illegible] for that long a period [illegible] time.

[illegible] President plans to leave [illegible] by plane Saturday, Nov. [illegible] in Washington in late [illegible].

[illegible] will be accompanied by [illegible], presidential counsel; [illegible] Gen. Wallace H. Graham, White House physician; Capt. [illegible] H. Foskett, naval aide; [illegible] A. Locke Jr., a special assistant; Capt. C. L. Freeman, [illegible] of the presidential yacht [illegible]burg, and Ross.

[illegible] his seven-day stay at [illegible] the President will occupy the quarters of the naval [illegible]mmandant.

[illegible] said the President "may [illegible] may not go fishing now and [illegible] will if the spirit moves [illegible]

No Set Program

[illegible] far there is no set program, Ross added.

[illegible] if the trip had been suggested by Dr. Graham, Ross replied:

"Nobody in particular suggested it. It just grew up as these things do. However, Dr. Graham is all in favor of it."

Asked whether Mr. Truman was [illegible] any effects of the cold he [illegible] up in Missouri last week, [illegible] replied no, and added that [illegible] President "was feeling very [illegible]"

The presidential party may be [illegible] at Key West, Ross said, by [illegible] Gen Harry F. Vaughan, the President's military aide and by Reconversion Director John R. Steelman. Ross said it all depended on whether these men would be able to get away some time next week.

The President will board the presidential yacht shortly after [illegible] tomorrow for a cruise to Annapolis, where on Saturday he will inspect the naval academy and watch the Navy-Penn State football game.

Saturday night he will attend [illegible] dinner given by the White House Photographers' association.

105 Next Week, Hardin Co. Woman Enjoys Good Health at Her Home With Daughter

Has Seen Neighborhood Grow from Area of Wilderness and Indian Trails

By W. T. BUCHANAN
Marion Star City Editor

Back in 1841 about this time of the year the stork made a call to leave a baby daughter at the cabin of a family of Hardin county pioneers.

Next Tuesday, Nov. 19, that baby, now Mrs. Mary Naus, will observe her one hundred and fifth birthday anniversary. The event will be marked at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. J. Stanton King of Forest, with whom she has made her home for a number of years.

Among those who will offer congratulations on that day are several of her seven children who live in the vicinity of Forest. Whether her eldest child, a son, will be able to be present has not been determined. He is Alva Naus, of Springfield, O., who passed his eighty-first birthday anniversary this month.

Regardless of who calls during the day, Mrs. Naus will receive them from her rocking chair in the comfortable King home. There is never a day, her daughter says, when she isn't up from her bed by 8:30 a. m. To retire before 9 p. m. is out of the question.

This reporter, who had the satisfaction of photographing and talking to Mrs. Naus five years ago just before she reached the century mark found it more difficult to get an interview this time.

Eyesight and hearing have failed to a large extent. Mrs. King can make herself understood, but Mrs. Naus has difficulty understanding voices she does not hear regularly.

Interest Not in the Past

Never one to live in the past, Mrs. Naus doesn't spent much time talking of the old days as do many persons of advanced years. She is not slow, however, to catch on to current problems as demonstrated by one which faced the King family last winter.

Feb. 3 the three-story K. of P. lodge hall, which stood close to the King residence, was burned to the ground, leaving only the walls standing. Realizing the danger, Mrs. Naus was taken to the home of another daughter in Forest.

Three days later the King residence was practically collapsed by an avalanche of bricks when the weakened walls were blown on the house in a windstorm.

When Mrs. King told her mother what had happened Mrs. Naus studied a moment and then said, "Well, we will just have to get another house. Everything will work out all right."

The Kings found another house, just back of their former home which stood on the main street of the town. When Mrs. Naus was taken to the new home she made the adjustment quickly, her daughter said.

Auto Rides Given Up

Mrs. Naus hasn't been in an automobile for several years, although she still would like to ride. Since she doesn't walk without assistance the auto rides were given up when it became too difficult for the Kings to get her into the car.

Mrs. Naus hasn't been ill since she was 96. Then her physician said her heart was bad but she has had no attacks since. She never requires medicine and the only time the physician calls, Mrs. King says, is "when I get a little excited and think mother might not be feeling well." Mrs. Naus never misses a meal and is able to go to the table with the King family.

An Only Child

Mrs. Naus was the only child born to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Ketch who lived in a log cabin near where the village of Patterson, south of Forest, now stands. She had a number of step-brothers and sisters but they are all dead.

Five generations of Mrs. Naus' family have been born since she first saw the light of day. Mrs.

Australia Attacks Russia As UN Veto Battle Breaks Out

By The Associated Press

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Nov. 14—Australia today attacked the Soviet Union for invoking the big power veto 10 times and said these acts have "stultified" the work of the United Nations security council. It said these Russian actions undermined confidence in the council and lessened its ability to deal effectively with matters before it.

Leading off debate on the explosive issue in the general assembly's 51-nation political committee, delegate Paul Hasluck of Australia called for complete review of the veto section which gives Russia, Great Britain, the United States, France and China the right to block any major decision with a single vote.

Exercise Veto at Will

"The plain and rather ugly fact is that a permanent member has claimed successfully that he can [illegible] at will those resolutions on which he wishes to exercise the [illegible], and in doing so, the form [illegible] content of the resolutions are [illegible] less concern to him than his [illegible] opinion of what some fellow member of the council has meant [illegible] might mean by making such proposals," Hasluck said.

Under the charter the permanent members may veto any substantive question but not one of procedure, and Hasluck directed [illegible] of his attack against repeated insistence of the Russians [illegible] they had the right to determine which matters were substantive and which procedural.

"The excessive claims made for the use of the veto had stultified the work of the security council [illegible] have undermined confidence [illegible] and lessened the council's ability to deal effectively with the matters brought before it," Hasluck declared and added:

"By employing the veto as an instrument of national policy, a permanent member, by so acting, has forgotten its representative capacity and its obligations under the charter to act on behalf of all other members."

Stressing that Australia was not

OPA WEIGHS PLAN TO BOOST RENT CEILINGS

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14—An industry proposal to boost all rent ceilings 15 per cent as a first step to full decontrol drew a promise from OPA officials today of "full and speedy" consideration.

These officials kept mum, however, on any prediction how the decision might go or even when it will be made. They said the issue would go to Price Administrator Paul A. Porter as soon as necessary studies have been completed.

The industry proposal, which offered the first opportunity for an official show-down on demands for rent decontrol, was presented to OPA by the agency's housing rent advisory committee.

The petition asked not only for the higher ceilings but for immediate removal of rent curbs on new houses or on buildings converted to housing use from other purposes.

The committee also proposed that "a systematic and progressive removal of individual properties from rent control" be accomplished where owners offer tenants a lease at an increase in rental of not more than 15 per cent.

COLUMBIA, S. C. GAS EXPLOSION FATAL TO FIVE

8 Others Hurt as Wholesale Building Is Shattered by Blast.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBIA, S. C., Nov. 14—A devastating gas explosion in a banana-curing room wrecked a 100-foot section of the Columbia curb market today, killed five men and sent eight other persons to hospitals with injuries.

Brick and broken timber were showered over the immediate area, while the concussion blasted out windows and shook building foundations several blocks away.

These fatally injured were Nolan W. Wessells, owner of a produce business in the market section; George Watkins, Roanoke Rapids, N. C.; Robert Lee Black, Roanoke Rapids, Arville Gantt, Pelion, and J. C. Abernathy, Inman.

Fire Chief A. McMarsh said he believed the explosion resulted from some one's smoking in the market outside the room where bananas were being ripened by a gas process.

When the door to the curing chamber was opened, after the gas had been shut off, he theorized, the gas remaining in the room was accidentally ignited.

Mrs. Hickson Tomlinson, an employe of a wholesale house diagonally across the street from the explosion, said she witnessed the whole spectacle from a window.

"The whole building rose in the air, then swelled out at the sides and tumbled back to the ground," she said. "Then I heard a big thud. The window where I was standing was blown out."

Luther Donahue of West Columbia, an employe of the curb market, said he was unloading a produce truck 30 or 40 feet away when the explosion occurred.

"First I saw a big black cloud of smoke, then I saw the building rise," he said. "Bricks started raining all around me and I dived under the truck. As soon as they quit falling, I jumped out and ran over and put in a call for the ambulances."

School Blast Toll Held Down By New Timing, Officers Say

(Picture on Page 14)

By The Associated Press

BARODA, Mich., Nov. 14—School authorities today credited a new schedule which emptied a first floor classroom 10 minutes before a boiler exploded at the consolidated school with holding the toll to one pupil killed and 18 others injured, one critically.

The blast occurred while 260 children were in the school, but most of them were in undamaged sections of the two-story structure.

Walter Ruppel, 13, died lass than three hours after the blast. Alice Johns, 13, was critically injured and hospital attendants described her condition as "poor."

The boiler blew up at 11.40 a. m. yesterday.

School authorities said that under a changed schedule, a score of pupils in the classroom directly above the boiler had filed out at 11:30 a. m. for a lunch period. Under the former schedule they would have remained in class until noon.

Just above the emptied classroom, a room full of seventh grade pupils was dropped to the basement and buried beneath debris.

Authorities questioned Eldon Nitz, 16, who, according to School Superintendent Howard Walter, was substituting for his janitor uncle who was away.

Nitz said he had received instructions from his uncle on firing the boiler. He said he was not in the boiler room when the blast occurred and "didn't know what happened."

The youth was not held and Prosecutor Karl Zick said there would be no criminal inquest.

He added, however, that state police would conduct an inquiry into the "mechanical" causes of the explosion.

GREEKS CHARGE WAR

Republicans Confer On Legislative Platform

Shift in Ohio Taxes Sought at Meeting

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 14—Mayor James A. Rhodes of Columbus asked the state of Ohio today to stop taxing utilities, cigarets, admissions and liquor so cities could tap these fields for their own needs.

Rhodes, first city official to present his views to a public hearing starting a general survey of the tax situation by the state tax department, added that an alternative would be permission for the cities to levy taxes on things already state-taxed.

"Where the state has entered a tax field, it denies the entry of such fields to the local sub-divisions," he said. "The state's removal from a number of such fields would allow the local governments to enter upon such fields for revenue purposes.

"By granting permission to the city to levy an additional tax on certain commodities now taxed by the state, sufficient revenue could be provided to eliminate practically all of the financial ills of the metropolitan cities * * *

"Outstanding examples would be a permissive tax on public utilities applicable both to the consumers and the utility company; on alcoholic beverages which funds could be earmarked for police protection, a tax on liquid fuel for street maintenance, and kindred purposes which all cities are in dire need of.

"A recent attorney general's opinion holds that permissive taxes may be authorized by the legislature."

Rhodes said cities would be slow to follow Toledo's example in adopting an income tax, mainly because "the legality * * * has not yet been tested in the courts."

The hearing was called by State Tax Commissioner C. Emory Glander as part of the general tax survey authorized at a special session of the general assembly.

The legislature directed the commissioner "to make a study of the present system of taxation, the present tax resources, the tax revenue and the revenue needs of the taxing units within the state."

Officials of three other cities and the Ohio welfare council were on the morning program, along with Mayor Rhodes. They were: C. F. Stwalm, Hamilton law director; Donald J. Delbene, Warren city solicitor; Lloyd N. Reynolds, South Euclid mayor, and David Bouterse, executive director of the Ohio welfare council.

Glander said the survey, conducted by the tax department's division of research and statistics, had progressed to the point where a public hearing was deemed advisable. He said hearings would be conducted in other cities if the present session showed they were needed.

Numerous cities have complained that distribution of revenues by the state left them impoverished and have recommended revenue and distribution changes. Glander said recommendations based on survey findings probably would be made to the next session of the general assembly.

60-DAY COAL TRUCE ASKED

U. S. Seeks To Keep Miners on Job While Owner-UMW Parley Continues.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14 — The government today was reported seeking a 60-day "truce" in the nation's strike-threatened soft coal fields while John L. Lewis and the mine owners negotiate a contract to speed release of the federally operated pits.

Secretary of Interior J. A. Krug planned to meet the United Mine Workers' chief again today after two highly secret conferences yesterday.

Tomorrow, Lewis may serve notice he intends to terminate the government contract in five days. Almost inevitably, this would lead to a walkout of his 400,000 soft coal diggers on Nov. 20 since the miners do not work without a contract.

While Lewis kept silent, the operators told Krug they were willing to meet with the miners' boss in an effort to avoid a crippling new strike.

Krug was reported by one operator to be seeking a commitment from Lewis to keep the miners working — say for a 60-day period—until agreement can be reached on a private contract that would permit early return of the mines to the operators.

The owners have been serving as mine managers since the government seized the pits in last spring's 59-day strike. Efforts by the operators and miners to come to terms failed at that time. After the government stepped in, Krug made a contract with Lewis which ended the shutdown. Lewis contends that the government breached the agreement by "misinterpretations" of vacation pay provisions and other matters.

Furthermore, Lewis said, there had been changes in government wage policy—hinting at new wage and hour demands. He has not yet made those demands known.

Krug held brief sessions with five leading operators and with Lewis' group yesterday. The outlook appeared gloomy. As the miners filed out of the conference with Krug they were unusually grim.

In less than an hour, Lewis was back in Krug's office alone for an unannounced chat. He appeared in high spirits as he left that time.

Fresh Violence At Movie Lots Occurs Following Bombing

By The Associated Press

As law enforcement officials in Hollywood investigated recent bombings in connection with a two-month old strike at studios stemming from an AFL jurisdictional dispute, there was a new outbreak of violence.

A driverless bus, stolen from a garage which furnishes a number of the vehicles to studios, was set afire and rolled through a service station and into busy Beverly boulevard before it crashed into three parked cars. Studios have used similar buses to carry non-strikers through picket lines. No one was injured. Later police said a bundle of burning newspapers had been tossed on the porch of a studio worker.

The threat of a strike against New York City's unified transit system appeared ended today as day workers of the CIO Transport Workers union approved the union's executive board's decision to withhold strike action.

Union spokesmen indicated night shift workers, in a vote today, would take similar action. The strike threat diminished after the 33,000 employes of municipal subways, elevated and surface lines were assured payment of $6,000,000 in retroactive wage raises.

There were no indications of

LOS ANGELES MOPS UP AFTER STORM

By The Associated Press

Los angeles began mopping up operations today after one of the worst early-season Southern California storms on record, and army rescue teams continued their mercy treks in the Denver, Colorado area.

Specially trained army weasel crews, flown in from Chicago, drove their tracked vehicles through isolated and snow blocked country roads to bring sick persons to medical centers. American Red Cross emergency field headquarters were established at Rush, Colo., east of Colorado Springs.

In general, however, blue skies and fair weather prevailed over the United States east of the Rocky Mountains, aiding fliers dropping cottonseed cake feed to marooned herds of western cattle in the Denver snow area.

Although weather bureau forecasters said the storm center which struck Los Angeles had moved into Nevada, Los Angeles again was soaked early today by heavy rain accompanied by brilliant lightning.

Storage Batteries To Be More Plentiful

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14—More storage batteries for the American motorists' cars will appear on the market shortly as a result of the increased price of lead following decontrol, the bureau of mines predicted today.

While there may continue to be a shortage of lead to meet all needs for some time, bureau economists told a reporter there would be more primary lead produced in the tri-state district of Oklahoma, Kansas and Missouri and in other areas since the ceilings have been removed.

UN HEARS HER PLEA. A Gold Star mother, Mrs. Stanley Schnelle, above, of Olivia, Minn., wrote a letter pleading for world peace to Cardinal Spellman of New York City. The Catholic prelate turned the letter over to Secretary of State James F. Byrnes, who, in turn, read it to the delegates attending the UN general assembly, because, said Byrnes, "It typifies the longing of little people everywhere for peace." Mrs. Schnelle's 18-year-old son, Gordon, was killed on Okinawa.

GERMAN BLACK MARKET RAIDED

American M.P.'s Swoop Down on Camp Said To Be Headquarters.

By The Associated Press

FRANKFURT, Nov. 14—One hundred white helmeted American military policemen today raided the Zeilsheim Jewish displaced persons camp, which Col. Redmond J. Connolly, provost marshal, described as one of the biggest black market centers in Germany.

The raiders, carrying pistols, struck at dawn. Most of the 5,000 residents of the camp were still in bed or were just arising.

Within 10 minutes 25 American Army criminal investigation agents who accompanied the police announced that they had arrested the chief black market operator. He was not immediately identified.

Connolly, a Brooklyn resident, said a bakery shop was the headquarters of the black market activities in the camp and was the chief objective of the CID agents.

Most Used Telephone

He said the bakery's telephone was "the most used" in Germany and declared it had been carrying a constant flow of calls dealing with black market traffic.

Road blocks to prevent movement of trucks were set up on all roads leading from the camp, which occupies an entire German village about 10 miles from Frankfurt.

To prevent riots such as have marked raids on other displaced persons camps, connolly invoked a military government ruling barring German military policemen from the vicinity during the surprise swoop.

LIMITED ACTION GAINING FAVOR AMONG G.O.P.

Few Promises, Prompt Fulfillment Sought as Committee Meets.

BULLETIN

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14—Senator Robert Taft of Ohio forecast today that Republicans would delay final drafting of any party legislature program for the G.O.P.-controlled congress until early in January. Any such delay probably would lay the Republican proposals before congress after President Truman outlines his Democratic administration requests for legislation in the annual state of the union mesage.

* * *

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14 — A thumbnail legislative program embracing a half dozen or fewer promises gained favor among Republicans today as senate and house G.O.P. steering committees met for their first crack at organizing the new congress.

All signs, however, pointed to a long delay in resolving leadership questions, particularly since the house struggle still is raging unabated against a backdrop of 1948 presidential politics.

Assembling for separate meetings, the 20 representatives and eight senators who make up the program planning groups were expected to discuss a wide field of prospective legislation in their new role as strategists for the majority party.

But Senator Wallace White of Maine, who may become majority floor leader in his chamber, told a reporter he is urging his colleagues to center their fire on a few major issues.

"I don't think we ought to try to write a party platform such as might be produced by a national convention," he said. "We ought to say what we want to do about a half dozen major issues and not spread our efforts all over the lot. We ought to make promises that we can carry out and then see that they are fulfilled."

Other Solons Join In

Support for White's view came from Senators Revercomb (R-WVa), and Ball (R-Minn). Revercomb called the thumbnail program idea "a sound approach to the problem of setting up reasonable objectives that can be reached."

Ball suggested before leaving to fill a St. Louis speaking engagement that the Republicans might concentrate in the first months of the 80th congress on three subjects—labor legislation, establishment of what he called a "sound" fiscal policy and the removal of wartime government controls.

Ball is working on several labor bills, including a measure to outlaw the closed shop. Revercomb said he thought the Republicans must form a new policy on the disposal of war surpluses.

Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich), expected to become the senate's new presiding officer, is likely to renew proposals for a joint senate-house committee inquiry into the possible broadening of social security coverage.

Taft for Housing

Senator Taft of Ohio, steering committee chairman, may want the Republicans to go on record for health and housing legislation he has sponsored in cooperation with Democrats in former congresses.

But in any event, Revercomb said he thinks such questions as Army-Navy merger and universal military training ought to be handled on a bipartisan, rather than on a party, basis.

On the leadership issue, the final decision in the senate appeared to hinge on whether Taft wants the floor leaders job or will be content to let it go to White while he keeps his grip on the steering committee helm.

Taft, a prime contender for the partys 1948 presidential nomination, also is involved indirectly in the bitter house struggle.

The top fight there revolves around a successor as floor leader to Rep. Joseph W. Martin Jr. of Massachusetts, who is slated to become speaker.

2 Candidates Declare

Two representatives, Charles A. Halleck, of Indiana and Thomas Jenkins of Ohio, are avowed candidates for the post, while friends of a third, Clarence Brown of Ohio, are working avidly in his behalf.

Boyle Sees America as Giant Crippled by Fear

By HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Writer

[illegible] Nov. 14—America, [illegible] coming after several [illegible] seems like a giant [illegible] pygmy fears.

[illegible] like a schizoph[illegible] afraid of mice, brood[illegible] when one may grow up [illegible] trouble.

[illegible] national temper, bold, re[illegible] and aggressive under [illegible]

Hal Boyle

[illegible] future [illegible] than the people of any [illegible] can even dream of. [illegible] a feeling of widespread [illegible] and personal insecurity, [illegible] unreasoned and base[illegible] there are the more striking [illegible] back from other lands, [illegible] America is still regarded [illegible] people as the beacon [illegible] a secure world.

[illegible] observer told me in [illegible]

[illegible] appear to have no [illegible] your power and prestige [illegible] moment. Nothing is [illegible] for the United States

[illegible] was speaking less of American [illegible] economic might than of the [illegible] of its moral prestige in assuring permanent world order—a prestige created by the force of its arms in war and enlarged since by its huge gift of food and clothing to distressed countries.

Foreigners Worry About U. S.

There is, however, a real worry abroad that the United States, beset by internal problems, will again retire into its isolationist shell and forego further adventures in international political and financial philanthropy.

Coming home, one is amazed at the extent of the change in the American intellectual climate. Hope has been replaced by an unhappy, doubting distrust.

"I'm doing all right now," many friends have told me, "but I don't know what lies ahead."

This bothers them so much they don't enjoy the two-bit cigars they couldn't even afford to smoke five years ago.

Everybody More Selfish

Housing, food and clothing shortages appear to have made everybody individually a bit more selfish, put a brake on charitable impulses. The philosophy of "I'll-get-mine-let-the-next-guy-worry-about himself" has gained adherents. This is understandable among on the part of others.

This personal fear "there may not be enough for me" is reflected in many ways. The housewife who for weeks can't find a cheap bar of soap to buy loses some of her sympathy for the dirty-eared children of Europe.

"I want my kids' ears clean first," she thinks, and thereafter her views on proposals for world unity are colored by worry over whether they are just camouflaged plots to grab her soap supply.

Same With Other Foods

So it is with steaks and shoes and nylon stockings and new motor cars and everything else the world is short of. The sum of the individual selfishness can crystallize into a national desire to "keep what we've got—and let the rest of the world work out its own problems."

Another puzzling attitude to one freshly returned—an attitude most often met in barrooms, it is true—is that "we should give Russia more muscle and less conversation."

This war talk would shock the average European right out of his bistro seat. There is considerable cynicism in Europe—as here—over the slow progress of the United Nations. But there definitely is no desire to cease these efforts at peace, and most definitely no stomach for another war.

Most Americans would be greatly disillusioned if they expected Europe to join enthusiastically any program to "get really tough with Russia." Firmness—yes. But force—no. Europe is sick of war and war talk.

Nobody there wants to play with matches—yet.

Pangborn Is Reelected Canaan Grange Master

Election of officers for the new year was conducted when Canaan Grange met Thursday night, Nov. 7, at the hall in Denmark. Floyd Pangborn was reelected master; Benny Randall, overseer; Mrs. Russell Gillson, lecturer; Dorrance Nance, steward; Blaine Bishop, assistant steward; Morris Payne, treasurer; Vera Bratton, secretary; Mrs. Valise Haye, chaplain; Mrs. Blaine Bishop, lady assistant steward; Mrs. William Bennett, Pomona; Arva Miller, Ceres; Mrs. Floyd Pangborn, Flora; Mrs. John Williams, pianist; Lowell Bader, member of the executive committee; and Lowell Douce, legislative agent.

State Grange pins for gaining 10 new members were presented to Mr. and Mrs. Dorrance Nance by the master. The next meeting, Nov. 21, will feature a movie by the soil conservation office.

High Grade Given Lodge in Inspection

A grade of 98 was given members of Sosnowski Rebekah lodge when Mrs. Nellie Martin of Morral, representative, conducted an inspection of the lodge work Tuesday night in the I.O.O.F. hall. One candidate was accepted and one received by transfer. A contribution of $5 was made to the Marion Community Foundation campaign. Mrs. Martin gave a talk and first nomination of officers was held. Announcement was made of the fourth quarterly birthday party for the Friendship circle to be held Nov. 19 at the home of Mrs. Matilda Bolinger of 346 East Church street. A potluck supper was served following the meeting with members of the social committee in charge.

JAIL BREAKERS GIVEN TERMS

Three Years Added to Original Sentences; One Remains at Large.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 14—Five of the six inmates who attempted to escape from the federal reformatory at Chillicothe last Sept. 28 under guards' gunfire were sentenced yesterday to serve three year terms upon expiration of their present sentences.

Federal Judge Mell G. Underwood said the three-year sentences would be served in an institution designated by the U. S. attorney general.

All five pleaded guilty to charges of escape and attempted escape. A companion, Homer L. Bock of Jefferson, Ky., made good his escape and is still at large. He was serving a two-year term for postal law violation.

The others, all serving auto theft terms, are: Frank B. Poers of Miami, Fla., serving two years and ten months; Robert E. Hurst of Kansas City, two years; James H. Keck of Verda, Ky., two years; Anthony J. Hanrahan, Indianapolis, three years, and Roy V. Pierce of Chicago Heights, Ill., three years.

All Escapees Young

Warden Allen L. Shank said ages of the prisoners ranged from their late teens to 22 years.

Court-appointed counsel for Hanrahan and Keck requested leniency because both youths were wounded by guards during the mass break.

The attorneys said Keck's wound in the left hip and Hanrahan's wound in the left foot would leave both prisoners "crippled for life." Hanrahan appeared in court on crutches and Keck limped slightly. Both are married and have children.

"I can not treat your offenses lightly," said Judge Underwood in imposing sentence. "You were in an unwalled institution and the government was depending on your word that you wouldn't try to escape," he said.

Scaled Fence

Shank said the six involved in the break scaled a fence, with the exception of Pierce, who couldn't get over. Discovered by guards, two of the fugitives were felled by gunfire and the others, except Bock, surrendered.

Judge Underwood also sentenced another reformatory fugitive who escaped Sept. 25 from a medium custody detail to three years imprisonment. He is Robert C. Lloyd, 20, of Greenville, Tenn., serving a two-year sentence for auto theft. He was captured Sept. 29 at Camp Knox wearing a military uniform, Shank told the court.

The court also heard a plea of guilty from E. W. Arbogast of the Midwest Crutch and Cane Co. of Mt. Sterling, to charges of violating child labor and wage and hour laws but deferred sentencing until Monday.

Abrogast is charged with employing underage persons in hazardous jobs and with failure to pay standard wages and standard time and a half for overtime.

Counsel said Arbogast was willing to pay overtime claims aggregating $1,200.

He has been at Springfield for the last three years and while there has been in charge of the Y. M. C. A. camp of that city, Camp Evergreen.

No Ceilings, No Floors

PRICES would have continued to rise without price decontrol. They had been rising steadily under the original price control act. They continued to rise steadily under the revised law. There was nothing else they could do. The pressure of rising labor costs and lagging efficiency of production was irresistible.

Decontrol is giving all prices which had been held down in defiance of rising costs a chance to go immediately to higher levels, thus relieving some of the pressure that had been handicapping enterprise. To the extent that more production is made possible by free pricing, there will be stabilization of prices at approximately their new level, where they have been raised. Prices which already were high enough will go no higher. Barring the threat of widespread strikes—which is very real and, if carried out, could ruin the country's last chance of avoiding economic chaos—the ultimate ceiling on postwar prices now has been reached.

The most important effect of decontrol, however, is not removal of ceilings, but of floors. Under government price control, there could be no reductions below the minimum-maximum point prescribed by bureaucracy. Competitors ceased to compete on a price basis: the government itself sponsored what otherwise would have been an illegal conspiracy to fix prices.

Competition now is restored. Prices rise at the risk of producers, distributors and retailers. Already some of these are preparing to take advantage of greater efficiency to undersell competitors whose production and distribution costs are out of line. There will be some day soon in this country a sale of marked-down merchandise; someone will make the plunge below the floor-ceiling established by government price-fixing. On that day, runaway inflation will cease to be a major worry.

Prices now can move both ways—up and down. They are still subject to the law of gravity. They cannot go up forever. Eventually they must descend. The certainty that they will do so was established when price fixing was abandoned as government policy just before and just after the election.

Time and Politics

MUCH political discussion between now and June of 1948 when the first of the major parties must nominate a presidential candidate will concern the identity of the men who will run against each other in the next national election.

The congressional elections this year and the elections for governor suggested possible candidates as likely additions to those already in the political paddock. It is always interesting, as a starting point, in evaluating the chances of candidates to match them with the one most nearly absolute factor in politics—time. How old would they be when nominated? How old would they be at the end of their first term, if elected and renominated? Ever since William Henry Harrison's death from pneumonia a month after going into office at the age of 68, politicians have been wary of presidential age. Twice after Harrison's death, 60-year-olds served in the presidency—Zachary Taylor, 64, and James Buchanan, 65. Thereafter, until Harry Truman, 60, succeeded Franklin D. Roosevelt, who had been renominated at the age of 62, there was no other chief executive in his 60's.

In 1949, on inauguration day, the men whose names are mentioned as presidential possibilities will line up according to their ages as follows: Harold E. Stassen 41, Thomas E. Dewey 46, John W. Bricker 55, Earl Warren 57, Robert A. Taft 50, Henry A. Wallace 60, Arthur H. Vandenberg 64, Harry Truman 64, Edward Martin 69.

Labor Needs Some Statesmanship

ORGANIZED labor cannot afford the growing impression that its leaders are playing a game among themselves for prestige inside the labor movement.

Specifically, organized labor cannot afford to have the public believe that men like John L. Lewis, Phil Murray, Walter Reuther, James C. Petrillo, Harry Bridges, Joe Curran and other leaders with national influence are capable of using their followers like pawns in a game for influence.

This would be bad enough if only labor were concerned, but in an interdependent economy everybody is concerned. Organized labor's inside politics, its internecine warfare and jurisdictional disputes cannot be waged in economic quarantine. They affect the whole nation.

Trade unionism asked for and received in the National Labor Relations Act recognition of its legal status as a major element in American society. It has failed in many instances during the years since the act's adoption to behave like a major element. Its failures could be forgiven if they did not threaten to be chronic. Organized labor's job now is to convince a skeptical public opinion of its intention to behave more responsibly. It needs statesmanship. It has outgrown the stage when it could be satisfied with leaders whose skill was limited to getting the boys a raise.

News Behind the News

By PAUL MALLON

Truman May Be Seeking Divorce from CIO-PAC.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14 Mr. Truman offered the Republicans cooperation "in every possible measure." He did it on Armistice Day—not V-E or V-J Day but the Armistice Day of the war before last.

The only deep significance read into his truce by certain authorities in private was that it might mean he was seeking a quiet divorce from CIO and its PAC in which case he might get some real Republican cooperation.

The interpretation corresponded with rumors that Bob Hannegan was to resign as national chairman, if not as postmaster general, on account of his health. Hannegan is supposed to have some trouble with his teeth—but not as much as he had from the election. The real question appears not so much to be his health but whether the Democratic leadership is to continue to play along with CIO and its PAC and how far.

Hannegan came in with the late Mr. Roosevelt and inherited a close working alliance with that union organization which has been growing in political unpopularity. If Truman and Hannegan continue to believe any notable number of votes or economic leadership lie in that direction, the possibilities of cooperation will recede commensurately with their leanings that way.

The Truman statement had no detectable scent of a sly CIO lying hidden between the lines. Who worked on it with him is not yet reportable (by me at any rate). Sam Rosenman, the old Roosevelt ghost in such matters, left the White House long ago, the authorities there tell me.

Underlying Point

However this may be, the whole underlying point of the co-operation statements, both by Truman and Republican National Chairman Reece, will be valuable in future action only to the extent the president has read the election returns and desires to correct his line. The Republicans, my thorough-going scouts tell me, are not going to violate the verdict of the people who elected them, just to make a great psychological love feast for press and radio.

Some say Hannegan may try to help the President to live a new political life by giving up everything and going back to Missouri—although actually he may be the best man to handle the divorce.

The inner condition of his party is noticeable in jockeying on the new minority side of house and senate. In the house, Speaker Sam Rayburn has said definitely he will not accept the Democratic house leadership. He has a ranch in Texas and apparently does not wish to take a secondary role after having held the "second biggest job in government." These are the only two reasons I know. Personally, however, he is a friend of Gene Cox, the Georgian, but not a friend of the present leader, McCormick.

The southern bloc of Democrats will be in control of their side at long last again and with Rayburn taking the position of an elder statesman behind the rail, the house newsmen suspect Cox will be elected to the leadership over McCormick.

Such an event would completely change the complexion of the Democratic party. CIO would be completely absent, but Cox might work out Democratic policy in a way which might not bring much unity even with a divorced and reformed White House.

Senate Side

On the senate side, Senator Barkley's wife has been seriously ill, yet he definitely has let his friends know he wants to keep his job. Barkley bounces better with the wind than his other colleagues. The White House will want his experience—despite his famed last-minute election prediction that a Republican victory would bring the end of co-operation on foreign policy.

Republicans on the other hand are going about their business rather quietly and moderately. While the Democrats say they have nothing particular to meet about, the Republicans are getting together on a program Thursday and Friday. Vandenberg will be head of foreign relations; Taft of policy, with White the tactical leader, which is a thorough indication they will go head the way they were going in all respects.

On the house side no polls have been made between Halleck and Brown. But it will not matter as to policy as both have followed the same Republican line. It will probably be a popularity contest. Some house observers give an edge now to Brown in view of his prominence in handling the inside reins at the Republican national headquarters in the recent election. His friends say he did most of the work. Eaton of New Jersey will get foreign relations there and he has co-operated thoroughly in the unified foreign policy.

Hence there are many invisible footballs being kicked about in the air larger than the public statements. Co-operation is not a matter of simple announcement but remains to be worked out. Jersey will get foreign relations

A Grass Widow Can't Live on Hay

This seems to have been one of those proverbial occasions when two could have lived cheaper than one.

Bullish tendencies being everywhere apparent, it was inevitable that inflation should beset the alimony market.

Increasingly, in the months ahead, one may expect to hear alienated spouses complain of the high cost of living apart.

The lady in question is asking $1,000 a month for clothes and $100 for beauty shop expenses. Neither does woman live by bread alone.

However, her budget should afford some consolation to her former mate. With such a tremendous outlay for overhaul, she ought not be long in attracting another meal ticket.

Future Plan for Germany

By RAYMOND MOLEY

THE report that the Soviet Union is preparing to come to an agreement along the lines of the American plan for Germany suggests that victors, as well as vanquished, live and learn. It is said that, preliminary to an agreement, Russia expects some significant concessions, but is willing to make some of her own.

The impact behind the prospective agreement is not generosity on the part of Britain, France, Russia and the United States. They are all fencing for advantage. They are willing to agree, because they have all made such a mess of matters in their respective zones. Letting Germany run itself will be preferable to a further trial of running it by themselves.

The Soviet government is finding its conquest expensive. Political plans are going askew. Germans refuse to become Communists. The looting of the German industrial plant is laborious and unproductive. Transplanted German technicians are not master craftsmen in Russian environment. And keeping Soviet troops in Germany is costly and dangerous to morale.

Soviets Want Concessions

It is clear that the Soviet is going to try to get considerable concessions in return for agreement to the American plan. These concessions may involve a freer hand in Rumania, Bulgaria and Hungary. Control of the Danube may also figure in the deal.

But, in return, Germany may be allowed to keep Stettin and possibly Breslau. Concessions on the eastern border will anger the Poles. The Soviet will have to make some concessions, perhaps territorial, to the Poles. But robbing the Poles to pay various European Pauls is not new. And all the Allied nations are so thoroughly tired of German occupation that almost any price will be mutually agreeable.

Even with a softer attitude on all hands, the job of setting up a self-contained Germany will be immense. It is doubtful if statecraft ever faced such a problem. For Germany has no government, no working constitution, no idea of how it is to support itself, and no clear notion of what its borders are to be.

Germany will not be a negotiator in the peace to be made. It must be a peace written from the outside. And the peace will not only have to set up the relations of Germany with the rest of the world, but will have to provide a government for Germany itself.

Constitution Still Stands

The nearest thing to a German organic law is the Weimar constitution of 1919. Legally, this constitution still stands. The Nazis paralyzed, but did not kill it by the Enabling Act of 1933, which gave Hitler and his cabinet plenary power. The Enabling Act has been continued and will expire legally in 1947.

Under the enabling act, Hitler suspended state and local government. The primary task of the Allied powers would seem to be the revival of federal government. In the American zone, some progress has been made in a revival of local and state government. The Russians, apparently, tried to create a political unit in their zone, without success. Clearly, the Germans, despite the Nazi interlude, are federally minded. This was the basic principle of Bismarck. It conforms to German habits and loyalties. The task on the political sides is to bring about the restoration of Bismarck's united states of Germany and also to find what remains of the personnel of the old administrative organization which was scattered by Hitler.

Beyond the political problem is the economic task. More people must be fed, with less land to cultivate. Industrial life must be developed, without permitting a growth of an armament potential. Meanwhile, the United States and Britain must contribute money, and Russia, presumably, must supply a genuine will to cooperate.

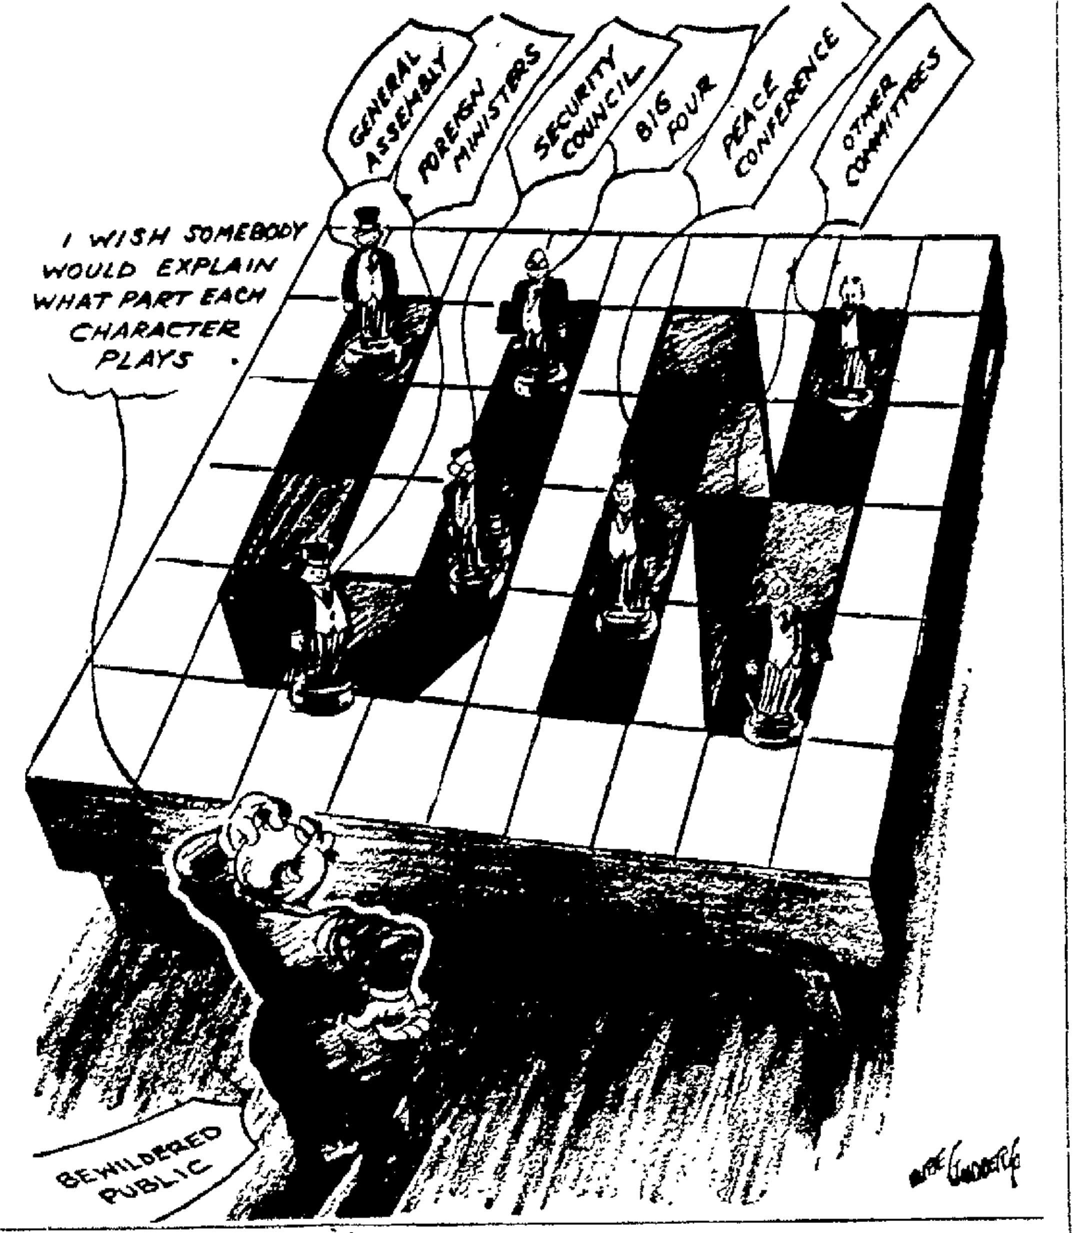
COMPLICATED GAME



From News of Other Years

TEN YEARS AGO

It was Saturday, Nov. 14, 1936.

Thousands of Communist posters plastered walls in Paris denouncing Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler as an "assassin."

John W. Buck, 65, well-known Marion county farmer, died at his home three and one-half miles southwest of Morral.

In season-ending games of the North Central Ohio football conference Harding High dropped before Mt. Vernon 4-0, Mansfield clinched its claim to the championship by defeating Ashland 14-0 and Galion scored its first victory of the season by defeating Shelby 21-20.

A delegation of more than 60 members of Marion Lodge No. 70, F. and A. M., headed by C. R. Pennisten, master, was in Cleveland to confer the master Mason degree at a meeting of Euclid Lodge No. 599. The trip was made in a special coach on the Big Four railroad.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Walter Pickering of Uncapher avenue.

J. W. Klinefelter, who had been making his home in Los Angeles, Calif., for several years, left for that city after spending several weeks here on business. Enroute he planned to visit his daughter, Mrs. Ava Deiss, in San Antonio, Texas, and while there expected to do some deer hunting.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

It was Sunday, Nov. 14, 1926.

Burglars entered the First Presbyterian church and carried away property valued at $600.

"Good Fellowship" week opened at Trinity Baptist church with a sermon by the pastor, Rev. U. S. Davis, on "Fellowship."

Miss Helen Fetter of Marion and Earl D. Schindler of Urbana were united in marriage by Rev. C. L. Allen at Calvary Evangelical parsonage.

Miss Evelyn Bachelder of North Seffner avenue won first honors in the annual prince of peace oratory contest at Trinity Baptist church.

A congregation of more than 1,200 attended Sunday school services which marked the reopening of Epworth M. E. church following extensive redecoration and repairs.

Action Needed To Avert Crisis

By WALTER LIPPMANN

IT will take some doing if congress and the President are to honor the pledges which they have exchanged. It is easier for them to say they will cooperate than it will be for them to do it.

It will be more than a matter of overcoming the division between the two parties. Each of the parties is itself divided into factions. The Democrats are no longer united by an agreed program, party discipline and recognized leaders; the Republicans have not yet achieved a program, a discipline and leaders who unite them.

The titular leaders—for the Democrats: Mr. Truman, Mr. Barkley, Mr. Rayburn, and Mr. McCormack; for the Republicans: Mr. Taft, Mr. Vandenberg, Mr. Martin—can agree upon joint national action only after they have come to terms with the divergent and rival factions in their own ranks.

With the election of 1948 impending, with Mr. Truman still a candidate, the Republicans will be sorely tempted to make a public spectacle of Mr. Truman's helplessness.

Tough Spot

The best of the Republicans will not wish to treat him as a political prisoner, trussed up and caged for torture. But all the Republicans are not the best Republicans.

Important Democrats will be no less tempted to exploit his helplessness. Knowing that Mr. Truman cannot be reelected, their main concern will not be to win control of the national government in 1948, but to win control of the basic and indestructible elements of the party organization.

Despite the excellent words that have been spoken, the prospects of joint action are at present poor, the premium on disagreement is high. The situation is very grave indeed, and unless extraordinary measures are taken to deal with it, there is every probability that the next two years will see a crisis of government of dangerous proportions to this country and to the world.

This is not, to be sure, the first time that the country has had a divided control of the government. But familiarity should not breed complacency. We had a divided government after the Civil War and after the first world war, and these precedents are no comfort but on the contrary an awful warning.

The reunion and the reconstruction of the country were delayed for a generation after the Civil War; divided government after the First World War left the country so divided and confused in the next 20 years that it could do nothing to prevent, and it did pitiably little to prepare against, the Second World War.

Repetition

Again we have a divided government—this time after the greatest of all wars, with no peace as yet agreed to, or in sight, or even outlined and projected, and with the whole economy of the world, including our own, impoverished and dislocated.

The settlement of this war, and the reconstruction, cannot be mastered without strong, purposeful and coherent government in the United States. We do not have it. We cannot trust to our luck that somehow we shall drift safely into port. We shall not be let off cheaply. We cannot count on getting by with generalities, amiable but lazy expressions of good intentions.

We shall have to make an extraordinary effort of heart and mind to surmount the crisis of government which is now developing. For the times are exceptionally troubled, and the government as now constituted and manned is exceptionally weak.

Our task is to form a government that can govern. We shall not get such a government by informal consultation between the President and the congressional leaders. Yet that appears to be all that he and they have thus far in mind for carrying out their pledges of cooperation.

Informal consultation will not be enough. It will not work because the inducements to agree are too weak. Consultation is indispensible but to be effective it should be formal. It should depend not on Mr. Truman's inviting the congressional leaders in for a chat, or on their asking him to receive them.

The consultation should be based on law and not merely on the good intentions, the moods and personal idiosyncrasies, of a few individuals. Perhaps as good a way as any to achieve this would be to adopt the proposal of Dr. Galloway, the staff director of the La Follette-Monroney committee, and to create by joint resolution of congress and an executive-legislative council with a secretariat.

In Weak Position

The President should propose some such machinery if he is to make effective and convincing his pledge of co-operation. But even that, it seems to me, will not be enough. His position is peculiarly and specially weak, and he will need to do extraordinary things to avert the consequences. They will be distasteful to contemplate now. But they will not be nearly so hard to bear as the personal and public consequences of drifting into a great crisis of government.

Mr. Truman's problem is the unusual weakness of his position. He has not only lost control of congress, but he is only in name the leader of his party. His personal weakness is an obstacle to co-operation for joint action. For joint action can be had only if there is a greater equality of bargaining power than now exists between the Capitol and the White House. If Mr. Truman is too weak, the best Republicans will be weakened in dealing with their own extremists.

Mr. Truman can, however, escape from the helpless position he is in if he can be induced to face the realities and then to use the political measures of last resort which are still available to him.

He can say without qualification that he is not a candidate for 1948. This will strengthen him under present circumstances since he will no longer be the man the

SAID Dame Democracy: "Alas,

It swept me to defeat.)

I guess I looked the same;

SUMMARY

A yen for office...
A chance quite swell ...
A Wallace speech. . .
Farewell!...Farewell!

Just in case our classification of Helen Hayes in the role of a lady on a bender as "Harriet Beecher Stew" doesn't quite ring the bell, how about "Queen Hic-Toria"?

We know a tory who is ablaze with a yen to get to Washington and pin on the White House door a sign "Kilroy Was Here."

A good many voters seem to have adopted the slogan "Our backs are to the Wallace."

What amazes the G.O.P. is that it did it without landing barges or PT boats.

Maybe the drop in cotton prices is due to the fact so much of it is now coming out of the automobile upholstery.

Parlor Gymnastics

By TRUMAN TWILL

There has come into existence a form of unrehearsed and nonprofessional amusement called parlor gymnastics. Nine out of ten cases of strained muscles and torn ligaments can be traced to attempts to keep abreast of this vicious diversion.

It flourishes in groups of human beings gathered to have a good time and supplements the parlor games which formerly did the whole job alone. These present a limited challenge to personal enterprise, whereas parlor gymnastics are less inhibited in nature.

They provide a reasonable excuse to pass from merely mental to physical endeavor thereby livening up the party. They also are calculated to tempt the unwary. They take advantage of the universal human conviction that any individual can do what any other individual can do, or make a stab at it.

Some of the well-known parlor gymnastics are as follows:

Glutz, a harmless fellow, says he can lie supine on the floor with a glassful of water balanced on his forehead and rise to a standing position without spilling the water. To everybody's amazement, Glutz performs as advertised. Dinwoodie, who is as good a man as Glutz, thereupon tries the trick and spills the water, which is very amusing.

Aunt Nellie, who practices on the sly, casually announces she can touch both hands to the floor sideways on either her right or her left side without bending her knees. Interest is stirred. A demonstration is demanded. Whereupon Cousin Agnes, who thinks she is as supple as Aunt Nellie, tries it and pulls herself out of shape, which leads all the others present to do likewise.

Mr. Z. declares he knows a man who can do a pushup from a prone position and at the height of the pushup can clap his hands together and get them back into position before he falls on his face. The challenge having been presented, Mr. X rises to the occasion and falls on his face. Others try it. Mr. Y, alone of those present, succeeds. This makes him a standout performer and a certainty to perform His Trick in all future gatherings.

Hostess Smith, sensing the need for something to keep her guests awake, lets it be known that no man with feet of normal length can touch the toes of his shoes to the baseboard then lean forward until his forehead touches the wall and bring himself erect again without using his hands. She further lets it be known that most women, because their feet are shorter relative to their height than a man's, can do this with no trouble. Everybody present must prove it to his own satisfaction. The party livens up.

Mr. A says he can hold on to the toes of his shoes and jump straight up in the air without letting go. Immediately, others must try this seemingly easy feat of agility. Not more than one in a dozen can do it, whereupon Mr. A does it with ease and his social standing goes up two and a fraction points.

This is the kind of thing going on in the United States. It threatens to do away with sedate parlor games and is giving the medical profession and the liniment interests a boom in conditions. Get yourself a parlor trick and be a success. Further feats will be listed in this space on popular demand. All are so simple a child can do them, which explains why only the children are willing to try.

"Every morning when we climb out it is a mad pile up on the floor since we all jump up at the same time."

Although the girls are strong for nocturnal snacks, they dine with other co-eds at Dorothy Webster Hall and are under regular dormitory rules "Doors are closed at 10:30 p. m., except on Saturday they are closed at 12 o'clock," the regulations state.

Catches Prexy Outside

The "door closing" already has caught President Shimer and his daughter Adair on the outside. It took considerable banging, the president admitted, to gain entrance when they returned home late one evening recently.

And that's only the half of it. One of the girls came down with the flu and the president's home was turned into an infirmary during an out-of-town trip "He'll probably wind up in the field house," one of the girls grinned.

The president's daughter, Adair, 24-year-old former Wave, is "housemother" for the 20 girls. Eliot Shimer, 22, a son, is in his second year at Harvard.

Mansion Shows Popularity

A birthday party at "Shimer Dorm" for freshman Jean Maddigan of Middleboro, Mass. demonstrated the popularity of the pillared residence of an early Ohio governor, Return Jonathan Meigs.

"Never had so much camera dodging in all my life," said Vir- a (Jimmie) Kelley of Alexan- Va after the test [illegible]

But the old home is feeling the effects of so much extra-curricular activity. A floor gave way under one of the double-deck beds, plunging a leg through the ceiling of a room below.

"Upper bunks are fine except when the bunk decides to go through the floor," remarked Helen Jane Young of Mitchell, S. D., of that incident.

"If the ceiling were higher and the bed lower, I'd say everything was perfect," quipped Jane Smith of Lancaster, N. Y.

Not to be outdone, Mary Carol Nora of Jamestown, N. Y. added: "Although we have bunks for our sleeping quarters, living in the president's home certainly isn't the bunk."

A more practical view is taken by Mary Lois Kennedy of St. Marys, W. Va. "Twenty wardrobes are better than one any time," she observed.

DELAWARE Nov. 14—Campus publications are springing up on all sides on the Ohio Wesleyan university campus this year. A new one last week was "The Dishrag" published by married veterans who reside in Vetville, the trailer city on the campus.

This week, "The Y's Bishop" made its initial appearance, published by the campus Y. M. C. A. Not to be outdone, campus religious activities came out with their first publication, "The Noose" featuring religious programs at Ohio Wesleyan.

Talk On Evangelism Heard By Gideons

A dinner preceded the program meeting of the Marion Camp of Gideons Wednesday night at the First United Brethren community house. Speaker for the evening was Rev. R. L. Sutherland, pastor of Greenwood Evangelical church who spoke on "Conversational Evangelism." Pointing out that Jesus chose 12 disciples and sent them out two by two into conversational evangelism and later chose 70, sending them out also two by two, with great success Rev Sutherland said "We belong to the great household of faith; accept Jesus Christ into your life and He will give you the refreshing living waters and you will never thirst again. You can then go to the unsaved and tell them about the living waters. If we let Jesus have control of our lives we will be a well of living waters and will give this living water to those who do not know Him, There are hungry people all around us and I fear that too many are not prepared to give them the word of God."

Miss Mary Jo Stafford gave a poem, "Testings and Promise" and two vocal duets were contributed by Mr. and Mrs. Ray Donough, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Fred Dutt. Rev Nathaniel Billings, pastor of the Christian Missionary Alliance church, who with his family plans to leave soon for the mission field in French Indo-China, gave a short talk. Guests were Rev and Mrs Sutherland, Mr. and Mrs Paul Cyders and Mrs Elizabeth Wohlfarth.

WOMAN CHARGED WITH HACKING BOY

By The Associated Press

MINEOLA, N. Y., Nov 14—A 51-year-old mother was charged by police today with luring a three-year-old boy neighbor into her cellar and madly attacking him with a hatchet and a saw because "the kid got my goat."

The boy, Frank Pubins Jr., his skull fractured, his body hacked and his left leg and left wrist partly sawed through, is near death in South Nassau communities hospital, Oceanside.

Mrs Lottie Woodside, the woman, was charged with first degree assault, Nassau county district attorney Frank Gullatta said yesterday in making public the details of the attack which allegedly took place Tuesday. The case was not made known until the woman was booked.

He said Mrs Woodside, mother of a nine-year-old boy, had been under treatment for several years for a mental ailment.

Gullatta told this story:

Mrs Woodside took the boy to the cellar, promising to show him the playroom there. She then fractured his skull and hacked his body with the hatchet, and started to dismember him.

She left the boy unconscious in the cellar, where her son, Robert, found him shortly afterwards. Robert afraid to talk to his mother told his father, Charles, who drove the boy to the hospital.

Police found a bloody hatchet Tuesday night. After an operation on the boy's brain yesterday, doctors took off emergency body bandages and found saw marks. Returning to the cellar, police found a saw.

Gullatta said Mrs Woodside wrote a note to her husband.

"I couldn't stand it any more—the kid got my goat." Gullatta quoted the note, adding it said she was sorry she had to leave him and their children, and said "goodbye."

Mrs Woodside was taken to the psychopathic ward at Meadowbrook hospital, Hempstead.

The Woodsides have an adopted daughter, Marylyn, 14. The father is a lace salesman for a New York City firm.

Osborne posted a 234 for high game in the Marion Power Shovel league at Palace Recreation alleys Tuesday night. Williams' 200 and 212 gave him high series of 598. Other top scores were Owens 213, Gilmore 200, Ruhl 214 and Little 202.

In the Marion Engineer Depot Men's league Margwurth's 206 and 545 were top single and series. Nels and Thomas tied at 165 for high single in the M.E.D. Women's league. Cafagno's 464 was high series.

Huffman Denies He's Slated for U. S. Post

COLUMBUS, O., Nov 14—James W. Huffman, uncertain whether he is still U S senator but carrying on as incumbent, spiked reports he was being considered for a federal appointment from President Truman and yesterday declared his intention to return to law practice here.

Huffman, defeated by former Gov. John W Bricker, Republican, in his bid for re-election, said he had "not been offered a job and no one has hinted that I was to be offered one."

CLEVELAND PASTOR EPWORTH SPEAKER

Dr. Oscar T. Olson Lectures at School of Religion.

Worship, "without which men can never hope to unite as one people in one world," was the theme of Dr Oscar Thomas Olson of Cleveland, when he spoke at the Epworth Methodist School of Religion lecture session Wednesday night in Epworth church. He is pastor of Epworth-Euclid Methodist church in Cleveland, and an authority of the Methodist denomination on worship, a description of which he gave as "the celebration of life in the presence of God." Dr. V. E. Busler, pastor, and dean of the School of Religion, presided, and congregational singing was led by Mrs. E. N. Hale.

"Ours is a world of facts where little reverence is shown," Dr. Olson declared. "We try to explain everything, attempt to do away with the mystery and wonders of life by analysis and tearing apart as a botanist does a flower. But do the scientific discoveries about the universe—the movements of the heavenly galaxies, the rate of speed of the travel of light, the vast distances away of the closest stars and countless other phenomenon of time and space abate the mystery and the wonder of that universe? This only deepens the awe with which man should look upon God and His creation.

"We need the botanist, yet we need the attitude of the poet. We need also the Burbank who would make better flowers. Too many men spiritually are robots. Man to himself is a sufficient god. He feels no need of the humbleness which comes of worship.

"Yet man's highest reach is worship, a living awareness of hidden, mysterious forces too deep for words to express, a power greater than himself that gives value to life, that fulfills his desire for deliverance from fear. The soul is drawn by the mystery and the wonder of life if man will only stop in his headlong rush, as the compass needle is drawn by the magnetic pole."

CLUB HEARS TALK ON ESKIMO CUSTOMS

Dr. Ruskin Appears on Y's Men's Program.

Dr J. Walter Ruskin anthropologist and world-traveler, took Y's Men's club members to the land of snow and ice and no income tax, northern Greenland, in an hour's talk at the club's regular meeting at the Y. M. C. A. Wednesday night.

Dr. Ruskin, who has been a surgeon, professor of anthropology at midwestern universities, a Rhodes scholar and a student at Eton school and Oxford university in England, described four year which he spent stranded among the primitive natives of the far north.

He was surgeon of the Whitney expedition, which left northern Canada in 1926 to spend several months studying conditions in the Arctic. While members of the party were living in a small village of Esquimaux, however, the wooden whaling vessel in which the expedition had entered the far North was crushed in the ice and sank with its crew. Dr Ruskin and three others were left stranded at the village, 1,800 miles from the nearest civilized place. It was four years before Dr Ruskin and one surviving companion were picked up by a rescue vessel at the west coast of Greenland.

The speaker described the primitive life of this land where the thermometer never goes above 32 degrees and falls as low as 80 below. Life is simple there, he said. "The Eskimo lives to eat and eats to live—and that's all he lives for. He has one bath in his life that's when he's 30 seconds old." The Eskimo is short and squat and resembles the Mongol of the plains of Asia from where he probably migrated. Esquimaux have no written language but do have rudimentary marriage and burial customs. A man must prove he can support a wife before he can marry. This means he must prove he is a competent hunter. The speaker described an incident in which a boy won an 11-year-old bride by killing a polar bear with a knife.

The expedition found evidences of a party led by Eric the Red, Norse adventurer, which explored Greenland during the 10th century, Dr Ruskin said.

The speaker was introduced by J. K. Staats, October program chairman W. D. McGee presided.

Marion Team Wins 6th Place In Power Co. Safety Contest

The Marion division of the Ohio Public Service Co. won sixth place in the company's annual safety and first aid field meet held Tuesday in Lorain, according to an announcement today from Harold J. Grigsby, manager of the Marion division and a vice president of the company.

Placing first in the contest, in which the 12 divisions of the Ohio Public Service Co. participated, was the Sandusky division, whose first aid and safety teams rolled up a total score of 81.792. The Sandusky division's score was 4.167 under the winning score made in last year's contest at Massillon by the Marion team, then participating as the Marion Reserve Power Co. team.

The contest is known as the George E. Snyder safety cup contest, and during ceremonies held in the evening at the Lorain Moose club building, the cup was presented to the Sandusky team by George E. Snyder of Cleveland. Mr. Snyder is the company's vice president in charge of operations.

Placing second in the contest, was the River division of near Shadyside with a total score of 81.771 and placing third was the Elyria division with a score of 80.250. The Marion division's score was 76.500.

Others in Contest

Other competing teams were from Lorain, Mansfield, Port Clinton, Massillon, Alliance, Ashland, Warren and Cleveland.

The Marion division's first aid team, headed by Ralph Bond as captain, included the following other members: R. E. Rhinehart, H. L. McCurdy, Dean Craver, R. D. Merchant and Floyd Page. On the safety team, which had no designated captain, were R. I. Butterworth, Leo Rizor, W. P. Applegett, W. H. Linder, R. W. Solinger and N. C. Irvin.

The meet began at 10:30 a. m., followed by lunch at noon. Contests opened at 1:30 p. m. and continued until 5:30 p. m. The presentation of awards and a speaking program followed the dinner meeting in the eveiing.

The Ohio Public Service Co.'s safety meet attracts national recognition from those interested in safety. One reason for this interest is the company's unique program, which features a movie. The cast of characters is drawn from the employes, produced by a national motion picture studio and taken throughout the Ohio Public Service Co.'s properties. In the movie a worker is shown as the victim of an accident and while the film is being shown members of the competing teams list the things which are contrary to proper safety.

Others Attend Contest

Besides regular team members, approximately 25 employes of the Marion division attended the meeting. During the evening program R. E. Burger, president of the company, congratulated the Sandusky team on winning the contest and Charles Bowden, of the Cleveland headquarters office, who has headed the safety program for the last 18 years and supervised Tuesday's meet, spoke on the safety and first aid program of the company and the results it has achieved.

Paul M. Gentzel, distribution superintendent at Elyria, was chairman of the meet committee and judges of the contest were all qualified first aid lay instructors, with two judges from each of the company's 12 divisions. John Hoke and George Landon were judges from the Marion division.

The annual first aid and safety contest is only a part of the Ohio Public Service Co.'s extensive first aid and safety program. All divisions of the company conduct regular monthly safety meetings and all employes are required to complete the standard American Red Cross first aid course. Teams competing in Tuesday's meet were limited to two two-hour training sessions.

PILES ARE NEVER "MILD"

DANGER IN NEGLECT

No one should ever think of piles (hemorrhoids) as a "mild" disorder.

Although they may seem a "mild" ailment, especially when not giving pain or inconvenience, piles are in fact tumor formation without tendency to heal themselves; instead they are likely, if neglected to keep increasing in size, involving more and more of the rectal area.

Even a so-called "mild" case may be expected to undermine one's health, by inviting predisposing to or aggravating other ailments, such as indigestion, biliousness, stomach trouble, constipation, headaches, pain in back and down the legs, secondary anemia with its rundown tired feeling and general nervous irritability.

Removal of piles is the only permanent relief — written guarantee. My method produces little or no discomfort, does not require the use of knife or drugs, and seldom is the patient required to lose any time from work or other duties.

Why not call and learn of this method? The examination is free.

VETERANS REMINDED OF USE FOR BONDS

Veterans in Ohio, Michigan and Kentucky have already forwarded more than 20,000 terminal leave bonds to the Veterans Administration Columbus Branch Office for advance payment of government insurance premiums, it was announced this week by Branch Six insurance officials.

Veterans cannot use their bonds for insurance with the intent of converting these bonds into cash prior to the maturity date of the security. If the amount of the bond, plus its interest, exceeds the cost of the insurance payment, VA cannot reimburse cash to the veteran, but can accredit the balance to future insurance commitments. Otherwise, the U. S. Treasury will forward a check to the veteran for the balance due, but the check will not be sent until the bond matures.

LOAN APPRAISALS OF VETS CHECKED

The Veterans Administration is placing greater emphasis on the supervision of appraisals in an effort to curb the inflationary effects of guaranteed GI loans upon the real estate market, it was reported this week by George C. Sturgeon, head of the Loan Guarantee Service of the VA's Ohio-Michigan-Kentucky Branch Office.

Although acknowledging that it cannot and was not intended to prevent rising realty prices, Mr. Sturgeon said the VA's loan service policy is to attempt to act as a brake on prices of property purchased with GI loans for the protection of veterans, most of whom are inexperienced in the real estate field.

VA is emphasizing careful selection of VA-designated appraisers by lending institutions, and investigating appraisals and denying a loan guaranty when an appraisal is found to be above "reasonable value."

The loan guaranty benefits of the GI Bill have enabled more than 24,000 Ohio veterans to borrow over $135,000,000 from lending institutions, with VA guaranteeing up to 50% of the loans or a maximum of $4,000 in home loans or $2,000 on business loans.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q. Is a veteran eligible for readjustment allowance benefit if he settles in Hawaii or Canada?

A. Residence in the United States, its territories or possessions is a definite eligibility requirement for readjustment allowances. Veterans living in Canada are not eligible. Veterans living in Hawaii are eligible, if they meet all other eligibility requirements.

Q. While in the service, I failed to take out USLI. I am now an honorably discharged veteran of World War II. May I take out insurance now?

A. Yes. The Insurance Act of 1946 authorizes new term insurance for any person who has had active service between October 8, 1940, and Sept. 2, 1945, inclusive, upon application, payment of premium and satisfactory evidence of good health. However, evidence of good health is waived for service connected disability less than total in degree resulting from such active srevice if application is submitted before Jan. 1, 1950.

Q. For what term of years can a guaranteed loan be made?

A. Payments must be such that they will repay a home or business real estate loan within 25 years, a farm real estate loan within 40 years, and a non-real estate loan within 10 years.

Q. Will the Veterans Administration guarantee a loan to buy a car for pleasure purposes only?

A. No.

Q. May the beneficiary change the option election by the insured? I have already converted my NSLI. May I now change to one of the endowment plans?

A. Yes. The beneficiary may elect an option which may extend over a longer period than that elected by the insured. The insured may change to any one of the new endowment plans.

Q. I am an honorably discharged veteran and have been committed to a federal prison. Am I entitled to receive a pension for my service-connected disability?

A. Yes. The fact that you are in prison will not affect your right to the pension which has been allowed you.

Q. I obtained a GI loan on which the government guarantee was $2,500. Recently I lost my job and would like to know if I'm eligible for unemployment compensation provided in the GI Bill?

A. The fact that you obtained a GI loan does not affect your eligibility for readjustment allowances. You may receive them if you meet the requirements specified by law.

Q. If I borrow on my NSLI converted policy, what rate of interest is charged on the loan?

A. The rate of interest on NSLI loans is 4%, payable annually.

Q. I have been making $220 a month,—$90 subsistence allowance, $120 training salary and $10 from odd jobs which vary from month to month,—while taking on-the-job training. How does the new legislation affect me, a married veteran?

A. Under the new ceiling, your subsistence allowance will be $80, if your training salary is $120. If you make more than $120 a month, your subsistence allowance will be cut accordingly.

VETERANS MOVE IN. Veteran James V. Harlan and his wife, with the help of their four-year-old son, Bill, move household goods into one of the unrented units of a South Side housing project in Chicago, after a group of veterans forced their way into the places and refused to budge.

FOUR MAIL ROUTES TO BE ADDED HERE

Will Increase Deliveries in Residential Areas.

With the addition of four new routes, starting today, mail delivery routes in the city will undergo a change, and when they are fully established, residential districts now having only one delivery a day will have two, Postmaster Homer D. Cole announces. Designated as auxiliary routes at present, the newly-established routes will be made regular ones in the near future.

Increase in the volume of business at the local postoffice makes the instituting of the new routes a necessity, the postmaster states. Aside from minor adjustments in routes no new ones have been inaugurated for about 10 years.

The new jobs, which will now increase the routes to 26 city carrier and two parcel posts, will be manner by veterans of World War II. The new carriers are Loren Baker of 694 Mt. Vernon avenue, Robert Staub of 219 North State street, John Thaw of 354 North State street and Alfred Leadenham of 252 South Vine street.

Readjuistments will be announced when the routes are permanently established, Postmaster Cole announces.

BRITISH LABOR FACES REVOLT

13 Parliament Members Join Move Against Bevin Policies.

By The Associated Press

LONDON, Nov. 14—Thirteen more labor members of parliament joined a "revolt" against the Attlee government today, demanding a Socialist foreign policy to prevent what a resolution called "an otherwise inevitable conflict between American capitalism and Soviet communism."

The Labor party rebels numbered at least 53. Another 20 Labor MPS were opposing the government over peacetime military conscription. Labor holds about a two to one majority over the Conservatives in the 640-seat house.

Each group of dissidents, constituting the first real crack in labor solidarity since Winston Churchill was forced from office 15 months ago after a general election, offered its objection as an amendment to the speech of King George VI Tuesday. There appeared little chance that either amendment could muster a majority and thus unseat Attlee's cabinet.

The British Press Association called the rebellion a "Labor party crisis" and reported:

"The cabinet will give immediate consideration to what now amounts to a determined and defiant throwing down of the gantlet by quite a substantial body of government MPS. If either the foreign affairs or the conscription amendments was carried in the commons, it would mean the immediate resignation of the government because technically such an amendment constitutes a censure motion."

to search persons on the streets for concealed weapons but were issued strict orders not to manhandle any of the camp occupants, most of whom come from Poland.

House to House Search

House to house searchers for contraband were conducted by the CID agents.

Military police said they staged the raid after receiving reports that many varieties of food were being sold at sidewalk booths in the camp at black market prices—such as oranges at 100 marks each ($10 at the legal rate of exchange).

They said they also had been informed that "operators" in the camp had dealt extensively in automobiles, some built with secret compartments for carrying contraband cigarets to Cologne and other German cities.

Spectators Put On Show for "Big Top" Folk At Hugo, Okla.

By The Associated Press

HUGO, Okla., Nov. 14—The old order changeth in this southwest circus center today and the performers went to the show.

The entire main street of this city of 6,500 was turned into a giant midway, complete with bearded ladies, clowns, elephants, monkeys and even a hyena.

Performers of four circuses and a medicine show were given a gala welcome home to their winter quarters by townspeople who put on a show of their own.

It was a double barreled celebration. It gave the troupers a chance to be spectators for a change. And it gave Hugo citizens a chance to realize that age-old desire to be a circus performer.

Doctors, lawyers, housewives, school kids participated. Sedate businessmen became clowns and matrons were made up to resemble freaks. Dozens of amateur acts dotted the city. Other townspeople peddled souvenirs, lemonade and hot dogs.

In contrast to regular shows, everything was free

Oklahoma's Gov. Robert S. Kerr made the celebration official by issuing a proclamation setting today aside as "Circus Roundup Day."

Shows welcomed to winter quarters were the Hugo Brothers Circus, the Casey Smith Shows, the Stevens Brothers Circus, the Al G. Kelley, Miller Brothers Circus and a medicine show operated by old-timer Dan Ghering.

G.O.P.

view the contest as primarily a Halleck-Brown battle Supporters of each contend privately that the issue actually has devloped into a "stop Taft" movement.

Brown, a fellow-Ohioan, long has been identified as a "Taft man," while Halleck has been a supporter of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, 1944 G.O.P. presidential nominee.

Should Brown win the house leadership, Taft's influence could be strong in the house.

"Turned Over to Taft"

"It would amount to turning over to the nominal leadership of both the senate and the house to Senator Taft to further his presidential aspirations," one of Halleck's lieutenants told reporters.

Brown insisted, however, that the leadership contest is not tied up in any way with the 1948 campaign.

"I'm not anybody's man," he told Republicans. "I'm a Republican."

Despite claim's of Halleck's supporters that the leadership post is "in the bag" for the Indianan, Brown said "it's not tied up at all."

"Nothing will be decided until the caucus on Jan. 2," he added. "I haven't announced my candidacy. But I haven't taken myself out of consideration."

The hole, ripped by the blast, can be seen in the center of the building where a portion of the wall and the roof were torn out. More than 200 children were led to safety by their teachers. SOME STOCKS MAKE FURTHER PROGRESS

NEW YORK, Nov. 14—Individual stocks made further progress on the recovery side of today's market although many leaders backed into lower territory.

Slowdowns were plentiful after a fairly active opening. While a few "thin" issues such as Eastman Kodak and Dow Chemical were up 3 to 5 points on single sales, declines of fractions to a point or so predominated near the fourth hour

Improved tendencies were shown by Joy Mfg. Co. (on a boosted quarterly and extra), Boeing, Sears Roebuck, Union Carbide, International Paper, American Smelting and Southern Railway. Losers included Santa Fe, Pennsylvania Railroad, Union Pacific, Goodyear, Chrysler, General Electric, Woolworth, Johns-Manville, Du Pont and Standard Oil (NJ).

Bonds were narrow, grain futures higher and cotton mixed.

Among forward curb leaders were American Republics, Textron, American Gas and U. S. Foil "B."

In San Francisco, however, there were indications that a basis for settlement of the six weeks old west coast maritime strike had been reached and an announcement might be made today or Friday.

Hasluck did not mention France, which invoked the veto once during voting on the Spanish case. The other three permanent members have not vetoed

Sen. Tom Connally (D-Tex) of the U. S. delegation was expected to present the United States viewpoint on the veto issue tomorrow.

In addition to the Australian proposal for a review of the entire question, the committee also has before it a proposal by Cuba to revise the charter and eliminate that special voting right and a similar resolution from the Philippines

Ohio Auditor Refuses To Approve Telegrams

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 14 — State Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson, declaring he was abiding by a mandate of the voters to halt "useless state and federal expenses," refused today to approve payment of six telegrams totaling $4.23.

The telegrams, he said, were sent by Charles Jones, administrator of the bureau of unemployment compensation, to prospective employes, three in Columbus and three outside the city.

Ferguson, a Democrat, inquired why the Columbus residents could not have been reached by telephone A letter would have sufficed for the others, he said.

Then he stated:

"The voters of the state issued a mandate election day that they wanted a discontinuance of useless state and federal expenses, and the state auditor's office will abide by that mandate regardless of whose toes get stepped on."

TRIESTE DEVELOPING INTO MAJOR BATTLE

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Nov. 14—A first-class stuggle was developing in the foreign ministers council today over the issue of who should rule the proposed Free City of Trieste. It appeared certain to put to extreme test the mildly conciliatory attitude which has grown up here between Russia and the western powers.

Secretary of State Byrnes and British Foreign Secretary Bevin already were confronted with 14 Russian demands for changes in a Paris peace conference decision that would vest wide powers in a governor responsible to the United Nations security council.

Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov, assailing the Paris plan as undemocratic, insisted on limiting the governor's power and shifting more authority into the hands of a popularly elected assembly and a council of government responsible to it.

Molotov declared his amendments to be a "minimum essential" of change in the Paris draft statute for Trieste and when last night's Big-Four session ended after three hours of argument his list of amendments, totaling 14, was still incomplete. More were due to be laid on the foreign ministers council table today.

Jail Break Attempt At Columbus Fails

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 14—Eight federal prisoners in the city prison trussed up a guard and beat him with his own blackjack last night, but their apparent attempt to escape was frustrated by a turnkey.

Patrolman Sam Compton suffered neck and head injuries when the prisoners attacked him as he directed them to their cells after they had a bath. One man threw a towel around Campton's neck and began choking him while others grabbed his blackjack and struck him on the head.

Turnkey Willis Welker, hearing Compton groan, rushed into the cell block and the prisoners scattered to their cells.

The eight were placed in solitary confinement pending an inquiry by city police and federal agents.

Sally Rand's "Art" Less Shocking To Judge Than Police

By The Associated Press

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 14—Whatever the artistic merits of Sally Rand's fan and bubble dances, they were not of sufficient voltage to upset municipal judge Leo Aggeler's judicial dignity. So she was acquitted late yesterday of charges of presenting an indecent performance.

By his verdict Judge Aggeler proved himself of sterner stuff than a couple of policemen who, claiming they were shocked at her cavortings, arrested her Oct. 31. To settle matters, the judge ordered her to put on a "command" performance yesterday at a downtown theater.

So 42-year-old Sally performed under a blue spotlight. At the finish, she dropped her fans just as the stage curtains enveloped her, and photographers present estimated the exposure as not more than 1/150 of a second.

Back in the courtroom, Police Sgt. W. H. Madden said it was not what he had witnessed earlier.

"They were the same dances she has done for 13 years," her attorneys claimed.

"If they were she couldn't have lasted 13 years," retorted deputy city attorney Walter Allen. "They were tame."

But the judge decided Sally shouldn't be stripped of her freedom.

King, busy all the time with the care of her mother, hasn't been able to keep account of all the later arrivals. However, she says her mother has four great, great, great grandchildren, three of them born in the last five years.

Mrs. Naus' husband, John P. Naus, died in 1929 at the age of 89. They had made their home in Forest and vicinity since their marriage following the Civil war, in which Mr. Naus fought with the Union forces.

Lived in Days of Indians

In her life time Mrs. Naus has seen northern Hardin county develop from a wilderness, the home of Indian tribes, into a prosperous farm community. When she was born the area where Forest now stands was a swale, broken only by Indian trails and the paths of wild animals.

While her future husband was still in the Union army her father and neighbors built a log cabin in which the couple set up housekeeping after their marriage Feb. 12, 1866. For the last 57 years Mrs. Naus has lived in Forest.

Mr. and Mrs. Naus were the parents of 10 children, all born at the farm home north of Forest they occupied for a number of years. The seven living are Alva Naus of Springfield, William D. Naus of Forest, Mrs Evalyn Conkle of Forest, Mrs Cora Purdy of Forest, Mrs. Flora Harper of Toledo, Mrs. Belle Krout of Chillicothe and Mrs. King Their ages range from 65 to 81.

Laycock, a Lima salesman, has been accused by the prosecution of beating his divorced wife, Clella, 35, a Chicago store clerk, and throwing her body into Indian lake where it was found last June 18.

Coroner A. J. McCracken of Logan county testified yesterday that death resulted from a beating and not drowning.

3 FREED IN A-BOMB PHOTO SELLING CASE

By The Associated Press

BALTIMORE, Nov. 14—U. C. Commissioner James K. Cullen today dismissed charges against three former service men the government accused of attempting to peddle unauthorized pictures of atomic bomb equipment.

Cullen in refusing to hold the three for federal grand jury action, said he did not feel that "sufficient evidence had been presented to substantiate the charge.

"I do not know whether such evidence exists," he declared. "The district attorney may still take the case to the grand jury if there is such evidence. I will not frown upon such a move"

U. S. District Attorney J. Bernard Flynn said immediately after the hearings he had "no comment" concerning any further government efforts to prosecute the case.

The men, George Comer, 23, and Miles Daubenmeyer, 26, of Bel Air, Md., and James Rike, 26, Chattanooga, Tenn., were arrested Oct. 9 when they approached editors of the Baltimore News-Post and offered to sell six pictures for $7,000.

Marion Represented in Rites Merging Two Denominations

Word has been received here that Rev. H. E. Williamson of Akron, a former pastor of Oakland Evangelical church in Marion, is attending the general conference of the Evangelical church at Johnstown, Pa. As delegate to that conference, he will attend the conference session officially uniting the Evangelical and United Brethren denominations on Sunday. Rev. J. Paul Jones of the Evangelical church at Bucyrus will also attend the session, having been the first alternate official delegate to be called upon to attend the conference.

In Music Program

Members of the Evangelical Ohio conference Ministers' chorus will sing at both the general conference and the uniting conference, and the Washington-Oregon Evangelical conference Gospel Gleemen, ministers' chorus, including former Marion men, which sang in Calvary Evangelical church here last week, will be heard. Those formerly from Marion in the Gleemen's group are Rev. Dean Vermillion, Rev. Robert Wetzel and Rev. Paul Peddicord. Rev. Clyde Wendell of Bellevue and Rev. H. W. Buckley of Columbus, both former Marion men, will attend the conference. Rev. Williamson, who was pastor of Oakland church, served here from September, 1926 to September, 1933, the second full-time pastor of the church. He is now pastor of Grace Evangelical church, Akron.

Merger of the two denominations will effect five congregations here, those of Calvary, Oakland, Greenwood and the rural Salem Evangelical churches, and First U. B. church.

Final Conference

The last General conference of the Evangelical church prior to union with the Church of the United Brethren in Christ, opened Monday afternoon. The session will conclude all business by Friday evening. Two hundred and fifty laymen and ministers, representing 24 annual conferences in the United States and Canada, are among the ministers and laymen elected to this quadrennial tribunal of the Evangelical church.

Saturday morning, will mark the Service of Union of the Evangelical church with the Church of the United Brethren in Christ. The nine bishops of the uniting denominations will participate, with the Declaration of Union being read by Bishop A. R. Clippinger, Dayton, O., senior bishop of the United Brethren church, and the address given by Bishop J. S. Stamm, Harrisburg, Pa., senior bishop of the Evangelical church. Immediately, the first General conference of the new Evangelical United Brethren church will go into session. Election of bishops, editors, general secretaries and publishing agents will consume the first day's activities. Beginning next week, procedures will be established for local churches, annual conferences and boards; rituals will be harmonized, systems of financial support decided upon, the type and quantity of literature needed determined. Headquarters of the new church will be in Dayton, and Harrisburg, where the church has large publishing plants, and in Dayton, a 22-story office building.

Becomes Major Denomination

Sunday, large community services are being held in Johnstown churches and Junior High school building. On Tuesday night, ecumenical relationships of the new church will be discussed with Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam, president of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America, as speaker. The new church will take its place among the major denominations with 750,000 members, 5,000 churches and mission stations on all continents. Fraternal relationships have been going on for 133 years, culminating this year in union.

Both denominations entering this union are distinctly American-born churches, and the birthplace of each was in Pennsylvania, within 20 miles of each other. It is likely that Jacob Albright, the founder of the Evangelical church, and Phillip Otterbein, the founder of the Church of the United Brethren in Christ, met early in the 1800's. The two churches, similar in doctrine and organization, followed the westward thrust of American civilization until they now have churches in almost every state in the Union and in many of the provinces of Canada. The new Evangelical United Brethren church will have nine bishops, 3,500 ministers and 52 annual conferences at work on this continent.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

How to Handle a Fortune

Some months ago I reported in the Clarion how Mel Bate's uncle died up north, and left him with a tidy fortune.

Naturally, our town was curious to see how Mel would spend it: Traveling around the world . . . getting a new house or car . . . wearing fancy clothes . . . or dining on cold pheasant and champagne . . .?

We can now report, Mel hasn't changed a bit! Drop in on him any night, and you'll find him in his shirt sleeves by the fire, chatting with the Missus, sharing a mellow glass of beer with friends.

From where I sit, Mel has learned the art of handling money—as well as handling people. You don't let cash-in-the-bank push you around any more than you let people push you around. If you like the simple, homey life; companionship and quiet ways; a glass of beer and friendly talk — that's worth a fortune, after all!

Grange Master Urges Anti-Depression Plan

By The Associated Press

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 14—A suggestion that some 50 top representatives of agriculture, labor and management draft a plan to avoid depression was advanced by Joseph W. Fichter, Ohio State grange master, at the 80th annual convention of the national grange yesterday.

Fichter, chaplain of the national organization, declared:

"It is not necessary that we repeat the 'boom or bust' experience which followed World War I. The nationally organized groups of agriculture, labor and management can prevent such a catastrophe if representatives from these groups, approximately 50 in number, will meet in conference in an attitude of open-mindedness and a willingness to make concessions."

LETTERS FROM OUR READERS

PARADE MANNERS

Editor of The Star: What is wrong with Marion, the people and their manners?

Monday night I was to the parade and for a cold night I must say it was a very good parade, with the exception, Marion's one big fault I've noticed for several years. Both ways, not only myself but from the remarks of others.

Now here is what's wrong with Marion's manners. Monday night we had visiting us a very good band from Caledonia and for a town its size it's really a grand group, but we showed them our rudeness by letting them March last and back with the horses. I think it was a very bad way to treat our visiting band. Why didn't they take the Harding band's place for a change? They're always talking how big hearted Marion is. Will you civic planners try letting the visiting bands march at the head of the parade for a change, or take a few lessons in good manners; and by the way, I have a boy in grade school I hope some day will march in Harding's band, but with good respect for other bands as well.

A Disgusted Marionite.

FIRST AID TO AILING HOUSE

—By ROGER C. WHITMAN—

Trouble with Cesspool

Q. My cesspool is giving me lots of trouble. I have had it emptied twice. Should I have a new one built, or what would you advise?

A. If the walls are so clogged that the pool fills up quickly after being cleaned out, the best remedy is to have another one built alongside to receive the overflow from the first one. The open end of the overflow pipe in the old cesspool should be placed well below the surface of the water to prevent the drawing in of grease. Grease in the old pool should be removed periodically. A grease trap in the line leading from the kitchen sink would have prevented much of the trouble. Have you considered the installation of a septic tank?

* * *

Fireproofing Curtains

Q. I think I read an items in your column some time ago about fireproofing curtains. Will you please repeat the formula.

A. One of the large chemical manufacturers makes a flameproofing compound, sold in small packages; inquire at a large department store. There are also concerns that do this type of work. If you wish to make your own, try the following: Dissolve 2½ pounds boric acid and three pounds crystallized borax in six gallons of water; soak the fabric well and hang up to drip and dry.

* * *

Powdering Paint

Q. The white paint on my shingled house rubs off when touched and powders off when there is rain. Before repainting shall I use a wire brush to rub off what I can, or what should I do?

A. That "chalking" is the disappearance of the gloss and surface through disintegration of the oil under the effects of weather. It is the normal manner of failure, the paint becoming powdery and rubbing off like chalk. Until chalking has gone too far, the paint film will remain securely attached and will form a good base for new paint. Brushing (not wire-brushing) would clean and prepare the surface for the new paint.

Masonary, Bricklaying

Q. I am interested in home repair and building and would like to know if there are any books or trade magazines on masonry work and bricklaying. I am planning to place a layer of brick around my present wood frame house and also building a brick porch front. It is a two-family house.

A. The publishing house of Theodore Audel & Co., 65 West 23rd street, New York, N. Y., has published four small volumes on this subject, called "Masons and Builders Guide." I suggest that you write to them for their catalogue and prices. Your public library also should have helpful information in the way of books and trade publications. Before undertaking your own building project, you would do well to engage a mason to help you get get started right. If you "got off on the wrong foot," you probably would waste money, time, labor and materials.

Analyst Says Uranium Fields Must Be Known

By J. M. ROBERTS JR.
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Dispatch of a 4,000-man naval expedition with 300 scientists to Antarctica makes is obvious that the United States is at last taking seriously the possibilities of that vast area which explorers have hardly touched.

Although it is described officially as a training project, there is a great deal more involved. When the navy sent a task force into the Arctic it was a navy proposition, assigned to naval problems. The Byrd expedition, considering that its manpower is spread over 12 ships, evidently is more of an operational project, with the navy assigned to plant a scientific colony and feed it with information.

Antarctica, which has had a few narrow lines drawn across its vast face by previous expeditions, is to be criss-crossed by carrier planes equipped with all sorts of scientific detectors. Not only the contours are to be mapped, but more particularly what lies under them.

Admiral Byrd has denied that this is a search for uranium, but of course won't pass up any if he comes across it.

There is no indication that Antarctica is considered important militarily, although the fact that the British sent an important and secret expedition there during the war hints of things not immediately evident to the layman. The fact that Russia also is sending an expedition probably means only that she is demonstrating that if others show too much interest in the Arctic, she can do a little reaching, too. There may be, too, information in the Antarctic which would help her in her remarkable development of the northernmost reaches of her own country into a habitable, economically valuable area.

Canadian Base Set

But the United States, in this age of guided missiles and world-girdling planes carrying atomic bombs, already has determined to build military bases in northern Canada as soon as that country will agree. The U. S. military frontiers are now in the South Seas, in North China, in Alaska and the Arctic, in the North Atlantic and along the Elbe. If Antarctica proves to be a necessary segment, then it will be made to fit.

The Byrd expedition also serves to remind of another interesting result of learning how to control atomic fission.

From now on it will be unsafe to permit any spot in the world to remain unexplored. And exploration now means not a mere trek which maps salient features and turns up the living habits of both flora and fauna. Exploration now means that no source of uranium or thorium can remain undiscovered, because of the danger to the world of such hidden deposits.

Old-Time Thanksgiving

HOLIDAY FEAST . . . With all the trimmings . . .

By CHARLOTTE ADAMS
Associated Press Food Editor

Make your Thanksgiving dinner table entirely beautiful in itself—and then have the food of equal handsomeness and the party will surely be a success.

An Irish linen tablecloth—your very best — is the traditional foundation for a festive table. For Thanksgiving there should be fruit in abundance in the center of the table, but how about varying that tradition by having both fruit and flowers—and even perhaps a few vegetables too, such as striped zuccini, artichokes, bell peppers and eggplant. Arrange the flowers low and close together, and keep those of the same kind in masses. Then use sprays of foliage—lemon leaves, ivy or whatever is available—to give balance and rhythm. For the grapes, pears, apples and vegetables give color and form.

And what goes on the table? Well, a turkey, if nothing else, is what most Americans say. And the stuffing which goes, in that bird is important.

Stuffing for a 12-Pound Bird

Four cups of crumbs (or small cubes of bread), 4 cups celery (leaves and stalks) cut fine, 1 tablespoon minced parsley, 2 medium sized white turnips, finely cut, 3 medium sized onions, finely cut, ½ teaspoon mixed poultry seasoning or ⅛ teaspoon sage, ¼ teaspoon marjoram, ½ teaspoon thyme, ¼ teaspoon summer savory, ¼ cup boiling water, 1-3 cup butter or fortified margarine, ½ dozen oysters cut small.

Measure all dry ingredients into large pan and toss together. Melt butter or margarine in boiling water; pour over crumbs; mix well. Add oysters and oyster liquor. Mix well and stuff the bird.

Preparing the turkey: When stuffed and trussed; rub well with salt all over outside, then spread with butter or margarine. Turkey is inclined to be a dry bird and needs the extra fat. Next take a piece of cheesecloth large enough to cover the top and sides of the bird; dip in melted fat, and then cover the bird. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) 20 minutes to the pound, or until the bird is well done.

Green and White Christmas Peas With Onions

1 pound small white onions, 1 pound frozen green peas, 3 tablespoons butter or fortified margarine, ⅛ teaspoon sugar, 1 teaspoon lemon juice, 1 teaspoon minced parsley, salt and pepper to taste.

Parboil the onions 5 minutes in small amount of water. Add peas, butter or margarine, lemon juice, salt, pepper and sugar. Cook quickly until peas are well heated through and all liquid absorbed. Add parsley and mix. Cover for a minute or two to allow flavor of parsley to season both onions and peas.

Sweet Potatoes With Almonds

4 to 6 large yams, 4 tablespoons butter or fortified margarine, ¼ cup blanched almonds, sliced, ¼ cup old fashioned molasses, ⅛ teaspoon powdered mace, 1-2 teaspoons sugar, ⅛ teaspoon cinnamon.

Scrub potatoes, boil in their jackets till tender. Skin. Cut into quarters or halves. Place in greased baking pan. Toast the sliced almonds in the butter or margarine. Remove from heat. Add molasses and powdered mace. Pour over potatoes. Mix sugar with cinnamon and sprinkle over top. Reheat gently just before serving.

LIPPMANN

Republicans must destroy.

He can reorganize his cabinet, offering to the Republicans at a minimum the post of Secretary of the Treasury on the ground that, as they control the purse, a Republican should administer the government finances.

But if he were willing to be as bold as wisdom in his circumstances requires, he would go further. He would inform the new Congress that, if after there has been a fair trail of formal and careful consultation, no adequate joint program is agreed to, he will ask them to re-enact in some suitable form the Act of 1792, and that he intends to resign. This will either break the deadlock, or it will resolve it by a national election.

No Disgrace To Resign

Mr. Truman will make a serious mistake if he treats the idea of resigning as a personal affront and a reflection on his courage. Washington approved a law which contemplates the resignation of a president. Lincoln and Wilson considered resigning had they found themselves, as they feared they might, placed in a position where they could not perform the duties of the president. Lincoln and Wilson thought of resigning because they feared that government might be impotent for four months.

Mr. Truman may find he is doomed to preside over an impotent government for two years. He should not dismiss from his mind the remedy which his great predecessors contemplated.

It is a poor conception of the public service which makes it a moral duty for a man to cling to an office, or to be a prisoner in it, if he cannot exercise its functions. The right to resign is one of the cherished privileges of a free man; the willingness to resign, when principle and the public interests are served, is always present in the public-spirited and the self-respecting. They look upon resigning, not as cowardice and quitting and a personal disaster, but as the ultimate guaranty of their useful influence and of their personal dignity.

Feeding Infant

The breast-fed baby is the best-fed baby.

Nothing is more important in giving the baby a good start in life than breast feeding. Mother's milk is exactly suited by nature, both to the infant's needs and his capacity for digestion and, in addition, offers the baby protection against many ills. For these reasons, no mother should give up trying to feed her baby until all reasonable efforts have failed.

Of all the conditions which may make breast-feeding difficult or impossible, sore nipples are perhaps the most frequent. In the first place, they may become so sore that the mother is unwilling or even unable to endure the child at the breast. This, in turn, discourages complete emptying of the breasts and, if this occurs during the first few days, the milk supply is likely to be permanently reduced.

According to Dr. Mavis Gunther of England, injury of the nipples from rubbing or biting may lead to soreness. Other causes are thinness of the tissues, lack of vitamin A in the tissues, and a condition called thrush. The latter is a disorder caused by a yeast or mold.

Two kinds of conditions may develop. One is known as erosive, in which some of the tissues are rubbed away. Little bleeding spots may develop in the nipple. Dr. Gunther suggests that this condition is caused by suction continued too long on the nipple. Congestion of blood in the nipples may be a contributing cause. The second disorder is a fissure or crack in the nipple. This develops about the fifth day or later after the baby is born.

These are a number of things which are suggested in order to keep soreness of the nipples from developing. First, the baby should not be left at the breast for more than two minutes at each feeding time during the first few days, before the milk comes into the breasts. At breast feeding, the baby should be made to take into his mouth as much of the dark part around the nipple as possible. The use of greasy ointments is of little value and may tend to make the soreness worse.

It is important that the baby be put to the breast regularly, even before the milk comes in, so as to establish the secretion of milk by the breasts. During pregnancy some physicians recommend massage of the nipples and other measures which are thought to toughen the tissues and thus help keep soreness of the nipples from developing. However, whether or not this should be done will be determined in each case by the doctor. In any event, proper treatment can prevent soreness of the nipples thus preserving the baby's all-important food supply.

MARION CABBIES OVERWHELM MENDON PROS 39 TO 0

Localites Show Scoring Punch In Best-Played Game Of Year

By GEORGE ROEST

Turning in their best offensive performance of the season the Marion Safety Cab A C's last night crushed the Mendon semi pro footballers 39 to 0 at the Harding stadium before an estimated 500 persons.

The Cabbies also showed strong defensively, holding the visitors to 35 yards total net gain by passing and rushing. Against this puny total the Cabbies made 357 yards on the land and through the air discounting losses.

The Cabbies scored two of their six touchdowns on sleepers, two sleepers plays failing, but Mindon only spotted one of them before it started

Cabbie Statistics

Statistics	Marion	Mendon
First downs	13	4
Firsts rushing	11	2
Firsts passing	1	1
Firsts penalties	1	1
Yards gained rushing	309	57
Yards lost rushing	13	35
Yards gained passing	61	13

The game was an even affair throughout the first quarter with Marion keeping Mendon bottled up in their own territory and scoring a safety when, attempting to punt from behind his own goal line D Albright's kick went straight up and like a basketball player going after the center jump he caught it and was downed thus keeping Marion from a touchdown but giving them two points

Bad Kick Sets Up TD

In the second quarter Mendon was forced to punt from their own 24 Albright's kick went only eight yards and was run back to the 29 by Howard Richardson On the next play Belknap started around the right end and scored standing up. Simmon's attempted placement failed

To gain their second touchdown the Cabbies opened up with their razzle dazzle plays, starting their drive from 36 yards out. With the team wide of the center, back Simmons passed to Benson on the 19. Still on the confounding plays, center Benson went to the one yard line. On the next play Harvey went over. Harvey's try for point was unsuccessful.

Second Team Goes In

After the kickoff and with Mendon on their own 37 the whole second team went in to finish the half Mendon was forced to punt, D. Albright toed one 26 yards to Ruhl on the Safety Cab 37 and he threaded his way to the Mendon 28 before being stopped. The half ended with Marion on the Mendon 21

Starting the second half the Cabbies opened up, Williams starting things off with a 46 yard runback of the kickoff to the Mendon 47.

Williams and Simmons picked up a first down on the 32 and Cafagno lost three yards From the 35 Ruhl skirted his own left end, raced down the east side lines, was trapped, cut to the right and crossed into the south end zone. Harvey's try for point failed

Mendon Quick-Kicks

Mendon got possession of the ball from the kickoff and on third down D. Albright quick-kicked to Williams on the Cabbie 25 for a runback to the 44.

The Cabbies on carrys by Ruhl and Harvey picked up two first downs to the Mendon 31 and then on a sleeper play, Simmons passed to Roseberry in the clear for a touchdown. Harvey sent the ball through the uprights for the conversion.

Receiving the kickoff, D. Albright carried from his own 20 to the Safety Cab 38 Mendon tried a pass which was intercepted on the line of scrimmage by Max Roseberry. Marion drove to the Mendon 20 before giving the ball up on downs.

Harvey Scores Again

After two attempted passes and an unsuccessful running attempt, D. Albright received a bad pass from center and was downed on the Mendon two. Harvey scored and Slatzer failed in his attempt to make the point.

Marion started another drive early in the fourth quarter which was to fall short of a Td by one yard. Getting the ball on their own 21, Cafagno picked up 33 yards from Marion territory putting the ball on the Mendon 30. He was hurt on the play and had to be carried off the field.

After that Harvey, Belknap and Ruhl picked up to the Mendon 22 Belknap and Harvey drove to the 7 and Ruhl lost to the 15 With it second down and 15, Harvey in three plunges picked up 14 yards and Mendon refusing a penalty took the ball on the one

Sleeper Brings TD

Marion got the ball on the visitors' 17 after running back a punt. Harvey drove to the 12 and Simmons on a sleeper passed to Roseberry for the final point Simmons tried the kick.

In the last part of the fourth quarter Marion once more played

LAST YEAR THERE WAS much speculation on what Army, as the best college team, could do against the professional New York Giants, with many sports writers saying Army would run the pros out of the lot DeWitt Coulter's performance with the Giants this year is an indication of just how false that prediction was Although All-America last year with Army, Counter is not the best of linemen with the pros The game Texas lad takes a beating every weekend As Knute Rockne once said, any contest between a college team and a pro eleven would be a battle of "men against boys"

Chips Are Down In Big Nine As Illinois And Ohio State Collide

Bucks Prep for Game Which Can Make or Break Title Hopes.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O, Nov. 14—Ohio State gridders hold their last full scale workout today before Saturday's game at Illinois—a game they must win to retain a chance for the Western Conference title.

A victory at Champaign would mean that the Big Nine championship would be at stake in the Nov. 23 homecoming finale here against Michigan, unless Wisconsin upsets the Wolverines at Ann Arbor Saturday.

Ohio State, sporting a three-game victory string and with an offense that tops the Western Conference in yardage gained, will meet an Illinois squad in better physical shape than at any time this year and well rested after an open date last weekend

The Bucks have only one important injury — second-string halfback Jerry Krall's twisted knee resulting from the game here with Pitt Krall was off his crutches yesterday and may be ready for the Michigan game, but it is almost a certainty Coach Paul Bixler won't risk further damage to the speedy Toledo left half by using him against the Illini

Yesterday the Bucks concentrated on defense—in the air and on the ground Today the emphasis is expected to shift to offense, and Bixler will select a 36-man squad to leave for Champaign Friday morning. So far no changes have been made in the Ohio starting lineup that was used against Northwestern and Pitt.

Illini Rated Favorites in Tilt Likely To Influence Loop Race.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Nov. 14 — Illinois, currently leading the Western Conference football race but with Ohio State and Michigan pressing, meets the Buckeyes Saturday in the week's outstanding league contest and a near record crowd is expected to be at Champaign.

A victory for Ohio State and an expected win by Michigan over Wisconsin will make the game Nov. 23 between the Buckeyes and Wolverines the payoff clash, with the winner probably getting the title and probably a chance to appear in the Rose Bowl on New Year's Day.

The Illini are at the top of the league with four wins, one defeat and a tie, with Michigan in second with a 3-1-1 record and Ohio State in third place with two wins, a defeat and a tie

Some 60,000 are expected at Champaign for the Illini's final home game, which would be the third crowd of 60,000 or more this season The Wisconsin homecoming attracted 62,000 and the Notre Dame game drew more than 70,000.

Illinois was rated a slight favorite by the bet makers but Ohio State's high scoring team—the Buckeyes lead the conference in points with 99—was regarded by many fans as at least an even choice to win.

A third Big Nine contest pits fourth place Iowa against Minnesota, while Northwestern goes to South Bend to play Notre Dame. Both Indiana, tied with Iowa, and Purdue, at the bottom of the standings with one tie and not a single victory in five games, have open dates.

CLEVELAND GAINS TIE IN HOCKEY LEAGUE

By The Associated Press

The Indianapolis Capitals, who have gained only one point in their last three games after picking up 17 out of a possible 22 in their first 11 games, today find themselves tied with the Cleveland Barons for the Western divisionn lead of the America Hockey league.

Indianapolis snapped a two-game losing streak last night by fighting the Buffalo Bisons to a 3-3 deadlock while the fast skating Barons trounced the Pittsburgh Hornets, 7-2 for their second straight win which enabled them to tie the Caps at 18 points apiece for the top rung.

The Bisons took a 2-0 lead in a game marked by 14 penalties but the Caps roared back in the second frame and scored three times to go out in front but Buffalo's Doug Lewis then tied the game for keeps by netting in the final heat.

Cleveland rammed home four counters in the opening session against the Hornets and coasted the rest of the way. Bob Carse and Lou Trudel led the Baron offense by notching two goals. Wally Wilson's last period goal at 18.06 for the Hornets, was the 500th scored in 68 league games this season.

In the other game, the Hershey Bears extended their Eastern division lead over the idle New Haven Ramblers to three points by clubbing the Springfield Indians, 10-2.

Bucyrus Player May Get Nod Saturday

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 4—James F. Troutman, a converted tackle from Bucyrus, O, may get the call at center for Carnegie Tech in its grid game with the University of Buffalo here Saturday. Troutman would replace Ceebee Groomes of Cheswick, regular pivot man whose ribs were injured again Saturday.

Trying For His Fourth Straight Win Tonite

Steve Nenoff, the Toledo Bulgarian, will be out to make it four straight wins when he meets Al Szasz of St. Louis tonight at the Marion Armory, but it may not be just that easy for Szasz is one of the toughest and strongest boys in the game and after doing better than two years in the army should be in wonderful condition. Al wrestled several months in his home city before coming up this way and it should be Steve's toughest match to date.

The other main event over the ninety minute route brings in another new face from Canada, Ken Larsen. This will be Ken's fourth match in this country as he came over just a week ago. He is plenty fast and sticks to the rules, and should give Whitey Walberg a swell match as Walberg would rather wrestle than throw punches.

Both matches are for the best two out of three falls. A ten minute prelim between local boys will open the program at 8:30. Prices (all taxes paid) General Admission 75c. Ringside $1.00 and kids under 14 years 50c. Call 2745 after six o'clock for ringside.—Adv.

LINEMAN OF THE WEEK. Joe Steffy (above), Army guard, was picked as the lineman of the week in the sixth Associated Press weekly poll of the season.

Kenton To Honor Billy Southworth

Special to The Star

KENTON, Nov. 14—Tonight the Kenton Elks will honor Billy Southworth, manager of the Boston Braves, and a lifetime member of the Kenton Elks, with their annual sports party.

Southworth, who earned his first five dollars in baseball in Kenton, will speak before a sellout crowd of 350 sports lovers of this community.

Among the notables who are expected to attend the banquet are Cy Young, Bob Ewing, formerly of the Cincinnati Reds, Pat Donahue, former National league catcher and umpire in the Western League, credited with discovering Bob Feller for the major leagues; Marty Neu, former Kenton man and minor league player and manager of other years; and Dr. Robert McClure, president of Ohio Northern university.

Southworth who usually spends the day hunting in this area, will leave this year immediately after the banquet for Columbus where he will entrain Friday morning with Ohio State's football team for Illinois and Saturday's game, according to Mike Clabaugh, banquet chairman and friend of Southworth

Harding Prexies Ready For Last Football Tilt at Springfield

Marion Harding's Presidents will finish their football season at Springfield tomorrow night. This game has been marked by Springfield as their homecoming so fans making the trip will probably be treated to some impressive ceremonies before the game and during the half.

The Prexy coaches have revised their lineup and metnods of defense in hopes of salvaging something in this last game of the season.

The most important position revision is the moving of Jim Coss to left end. Coss had been playing quarterback alternating with Rea Their new defensive setup is what may probably befuddle the Springfield Wildcats more than any other single new piece of strategy.

Other changes that may be made are the shifting of sophomore lineman Clarence Smith to the backfield. Also Leo Coffey who played in the backfield against Sandusky for the first time last week will be used again this weekend.

As both teams wind up the season, Springfield has a record of three wins and six losses while Harding has one tie and seven losses Once again bringing comparative scores into it, which don't mean much, Harding should be 13 points better than Springfield, having been beaten 33 to 13, by Mansfield while Mansfield downed Springfield 33 to 0

Average 194 Pounds

The Springfield line from tackle to tackle will average 194, their weight being brought up greatly by their two tackles Ralph Hale and Dick Haemmerle Hale weighs in at 208 and Haemmerle a neat 228 Their backs average only 153

Tuesday night when asked to make statements on this game Bill Thomas stuck up for his boys, saying that he thought that they had as good a chance of winning this one as any. From behind the shower curtain W. N Wiley said 'You never can tell, the boys may surprise them," and Howard Simpson chimed in with, "We're going to get those Springfield boys Friday night." It was [illegible] when the coaches left the stadium—all whistling loudly.

If this optimism should be contagious the Prexies may explode tomorrow night right in the faces of the Springfield club.

War Department Okays Trip To Rose Bowl For Army 11

By The Associated Press

WEST POINT, N. Y., Nov. 14—Earl Blaik's Cadets went into the final stages of their preparation for Penn with added zest today after learning that the War department has given official clearance for Army's acceptance of a possible Rose Bowl invitation

Should the Army get a bid to Pasadena the final decision as to whether the Black Knights will make the trip will be made by Maj Gen Maxwell D Taylor, sports-minded superintendent of the academy

The War department made the announcement after being beset by injuries whether there was any chance the Army might reverse its policy against post-season football games. If the bid is extended, "the way has been cleared for a prompt 'yes or no decision' by the superintendent," Washington said.

Meanwhile, Pacific Coast conference officials maintained a close-lipped "no comment" attitude although newspapermen on the coast clung to the belief that Rose Bowl overtures had been made to Army.

While the Rose Bowl rumors continued to flow into the Point Coach Blaik pronounced his squad fit and ready to concencrate on the business at hand, the Franklin field duel with the Quakers Saturday The Cadets were scheduled for a light drill today and will entrain tomorrow.

Snatches of Sports

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 14 — This writer doesn't pretend to know what's what on the Army-Rose Bowl situation, but these facts can be established Army likely would have said yes last year if the West Coast folks had waited until after the Navy game The weather and the Cadets' December examinations would make it very difficult for Army That's the same sort of thing that delayed the Big Nine-Pacific Coast negotiations. The midwesterners want limitations on pre-game practices so their champion won't be at a disadvantage On another angle, the Californians may want a final fling at a free selection before that five-year contract is signed because chances are that it will be strictly a Big Nine affair afterward. The deal calls for the eastern team's dough to be split up among the conference colleges and it is impossible that an outside team would take the game for a tenth share.

MILLION NIMRODS SET FOR OPENER

Game Commissioner Says Forest Population on Increase.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 14—An all time record number of more than a million hunters await opening of Ohio's pheasant and rabbit seasons Friday noon, Conservation Commissioner H. A. (Buck) Rider said today.

Game, while generally below the peak of 1941, will be more plentiful than in the past few years, Rider reported. The rabbit population, he said, had increased considerably and pheasant and ruffed grouse are more plentiful, but Hungarian partridge are scarce.

With about 750,000 nimrods purchasing licenses and another 250,000 farmers hunting on their own property without needing permits, a shortage of shotgun shells, especially in the larger cities, has developed. In 1941 licenses were issued to 613,000 persons, and 491,000 were sold in 1943.

Hunting hours are 7 30 a. m. to 5 30 p. m. daily except Sunday The bird season lasts through after the first day limited to two cock birds a day and possession after the first day limited to two birds. The rabbit season continues until Jan. 1, with the bag limit and possession limit four daily.

Probably the toughest job for new baseball pilots is the one facing Stanley (Bucky) Harris, who started out this year as general manager of Buffalo in the International League and wound up as field boss of the New York Yankees.

Less than an hour after Larry MacPhail announced Harris as his new pilot, there was some off-the-record speculation that Bucky would do a good job to finish out the first year of his two-year contract. That's because MacPhail had three Yankee managers this year—Joe McCarthy, Bill Dickey and Johnny Neun All three quit.

Penn Plans Offensive Action In Saturday Tilt With Army

By The Associated Press

PHILADELPHIA, Nov 14—Don Schneider, Pennsylvania's fastest halfback, drew a starting assignment today for the Army-Penn football clash Saturday, adding credence to reports that Penn will go all out for offense

Whereas the historic scoreless struggle between the Army and Notre Dame's Fighting Irish was essentially a defensive battle, Schneider's presence in the lineup presages a potential offensive duel, pitting Schneider's speed against that of Glenn Davis.

With Schneider, a 165-pound junior who ran wild against Columbia last week, in the backfield, Coach George Munger will be presenting his strongest offensive combination.

The Lancaster, Pa., speedster will be joining Skippy Minisi, All-America candidate wingback who has scored nine touchdowns; Eddie Allen, war veteran fullback who has tallied eight times, and Carmen Falcone, one of the sharpest blockers in college football

Schneider, who replaces Bob Deuber at the tailback post in Penn's single wing attack, will be starting his first game of the season.

Munger and his assistants figure Army is going to open up its offense and play more wide open football than it did against Notre Dame- and the Red and Blue high command plans to counter

Army remained a two-touchdown favorite but more and more sports authorities were hopping on the Penn bandwagon

MARION FRESHMEN TO MEET BEXLEY

Tonight the Marion freshman high school team will meet the freshman team from Bexley at Harding stadium Previously all the Marion players had been members of the city junior high football teams but the boys who will play tonight are all freshmen and so the game will be classed as high school competition

Some of the most interested spectators in the stands will be the coaches of the Harding football team who tonight will be given a preview of what to expect of their own teams in a couple of years

The junior high school coaches have been working with the team for a week and hope that it will be able to roll against Bexley tonight Bexley will probably have a heavier team than Marion will but it is hoped that a powerhouse combination of ninth gradders from all three junior high schools will turn the trick of beating them

Central beat Bexley on a game before this but all of the coaches expect Bexley to be a tougher opponent tonight than they were in that game The Marion freshman team has had only 7 days in which to become accustomed to working as a unit

Although the coaches still aren't sure just who will be started a probable lineup has been named They are ends, Don Noggle and Doug Birkaw with Don Haffman and Bob Stanley mentioned as possibilities, tackles, Phil Messinger and Dick Upton guards, Jim Seckel and Lloyd Williams and Ora Roush as a possibility, Merle Dann will be center. The probable backs will be Jack Williams, qb, Eugene Hyper, lh; Dick Leffler, rh, and George Browning, fb

Brooklyn's Glenn Dobbs Makes Clean Sweep Of Pro Grid Slate

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Nov. 14—Since Brooklyn's Glenn Dobbs is practically assured of the All-America conference total offense and punting championships, the Figure Filberts in the pro football league can now turn their attention to the individual scoring, rushing and passing contests.

Dobbs added nearly 100 yards to his total offense lead in Saturday's 17-14 loss to Buffalo, according to statistics released by the conference today. This puts him 180 yards ahead of Otto Graham, Cleveland's passing star, with 1,445 yards to 1,275. Dobbs has played in nine games to Graham's 10.

The scoring battle drew tighter with Lou (((The Toe) Groza, of Cleveland collecting two points after touchdown and Orban (Spec) Sanders of New York adding a touchdown. San Francisco's Len Eshmont, the leader, was injured early and did not score. Eshmont has 54 points to Groza's 52 and Sanders' 48.

Dobbs, who leads the league in pass completions with 87, moved from third to second place among the aerial leaders with 12 hits in 25 attempts Sunday for 248 yards and two touchdowns.

Sanders increased his rushing lead of Marion Motley of Cleveland by a bare nine yards and now leads 530 to 497. Motley has averaged 8.43 to Sanders' 5.20 per trip.

Dobbs improved his handsome punting lead with a 54-yard average for five kicks Sunday. He now has 55 for a 47.2 average to lead in both number and averages.

HUNTERS FILL HOTEL ROOMS IN KENTON

Special to The Star

KENTON, Nov. 14—Indications are that when Friday rolls around Kenton and vicinity will be host to an influx of hunters. Hotel rooms and private rooms in residences have been sold out for weeks in advance for the first weekend of hunting.

Hunting prospects in this area are better than they have been in the past few years according to Frank Ramge, deputy game warden. Pheasants will be more plentiful than in the past three years but not up to the par of pre-war years. Rabbits are as plentiful as ever and the greatest crop of coon ever reported in this county will be available for the lovers of that sport.

The fox, which has been one of the arch enemies of the pheasant in this area, is being eliminated. Records of the Hardin county sheriff showed a few days ago that 207 bounties have been paid on foxes this year.

Cover is about as good as ever for the birds and several hundreds have been released in this territory by the state in previous months.

The county will be patrolled by game wardens using the short-wave radio.

LOVE'S FAIR HORIZON

By ADELE GARRISON

"BETTER go over to your little study then," Katharine answered prison-fashion and we stealthily made our way to the room which had seen so much drama—and melodrama

'What's on the well-known mind' she asked when we had reached sanctuary, and I had closed the door

"Simply this I told her Helena and Carolyn Brixton have to be kept from—

"'Snooping' is the word, I believe," she said with a gamin grin at me

'Check!' I said, returning her grin 'Now Lillian can be depended upon to take care of Helena, and the only person who adequately can do the job with Carolyn is Marion But unfortunately — and I hesitated

Still Carries a Torch

'Marion is still carrying a torch for Don Quixote, Katharine said and she'll have kitten quintuplets at the very thought of being asked to spy on the roommate who also doubles as her fiance's sister And I suppose you've drawn the job of herding her into the corral My commiseration, Pat But tell me why do you draw all the messy jobs Marion has a mother also a stepfather both of them capable citizens Why don't they get busy on this job?'

I smiled ruefully at her

'I asked that question of Harry a while ago I said and he convinced me that he being a man could not tackle it It needed a woman's fine touch"

"To do him justice, it does not that" Katharine said 'And I suppose he also persuaded you that Lillian was too close to Marion to do a really good job on her"

Just What He said

"That was virtually what he said," I admitted

"And he's probably right," Katharine conceded 'But it's a darned shame at that Now, where do I come into the picture? I don't imagine you brought me over here to inquire into my love life"

"No," I told her, laughing "not this evening But I do want to ask you to keep Helena and Carolyn up with Sam as long as you possibly can without hurting him Give a hint to Dr Twitchell of why you're doing it, and can you give me any idea of how long they can be kept up there"

Her answer was prompt

It All Depends

"It depends altogether on the way they behave' she said "But Dr Twitchell and I will be in the room—I wouldn't leave those two alone with Sam for a cool million—and we'll be able to flag any hysterics I should say around a half hour, perhaps a minute or two over or under

'I feel like running up the flag ' I told her

"Just so you don't get run down" she quipped and I shook my fist at her as she turned toward the door

"I'll get up to Sam, and put Dr Twitchell wise" she said, and when she had closed the door, I sat down in the nearest chair pulling myself together for what I knew would be a nervous ordeal—my coming interview with Marion

When I went back into the hall I met my father coming out of the library with 'Mr K ' at his side I knew they had been discussing Bertha Kent's message

The Secret Room

'We are going down to the secret room" my father said 'and we want to pick up Harry on the way Have Katharine and Dr Twitchell gone back to Sam"

'I don't know about Dr Twitchell" I said 'I haven't seen him since I left the dining room But Katharine is on her way to your wing now If she hasn't reached there, she will be there in another minute '

'And of course ' my father said, 'if Dr Twitchell isn't around down here he is sure to be in my wing All right, K, come along
